2 Parties Laud Signing of Bill

New York State With 300 Million Road Plans to Receive 40 Million From U. S.

ALBANY (AP) — Gov. Harriman says President Eisenhower's signature on the new highway bill makes available an additional 40 million dollars of federal funds for New York State this year.

The state's highway program already exceeds 300 million dollars for this year, the governor said yesterday. With matching state funds allotted to the additional federal outlay, he added, the total increase in this year's program will be 54 million dollars.

To Speed Starts

Harriman said the Public Works Department had tentatively programmed projects against this money and "will do everything possible to place the work under contract at an early date."

The governor said extra funds for interstate work would be used to begin construction of the Plattsburgh bypass on the Northway and the Central Square-Parish section of the Empire Stateway, also known as the Penn-Can Highway.

Will Accelerate Work

Additional aid for the next three years, he said, will permit acceleration of overall construction schedules for the Empire Stateway, the Northway, Interstate Route 503 between Port Jervis and the Connecticut state line, and urban connections in New York City, Rochester and other cities.

Harriman gave no details on these plans.

Big Slice for Ulster

He said the additional money would be used on the following urban, primary and secondary highway projects:

Route 49 in Oneida County, $1,700,000; Route 93 in Erie and Niagara counties, $1,200,000; Route 226 in Steuben County, $1,300,000; Route 177 in Jefferson County, $1,200,000; Route 17-K in Orange County, $1,500,000.

Also Route 28 in Ulster County, $2,300,000; Route 17 in Sullivan County, $8,700,000; phase 2 of the Sunrise highway extension, Suffolk County, $2,500,000; Route 67 in Saratoga County, $930,000; Route 40 in Washington County, $1,200,000.

In addition, the Hudson River bridge between Glenn and Weavertown in Warren County, $500,000; Route 31 in Onondaga County, $400,000; Route 23 in Columbia County, $600,000; City of Norwich arterial in Chenango County, $700,000.

There were no further details on these projects.

Red Word Is Awaited On Summit

MOSCOW (AP)—The Western Big Three's ambassadors to Moscow awaited word from the Kremlin today on whether it would begin talks with them on possibilities for agreement at a summit conference.

The envoys of the United States, Britain and France left the next move up to the Russians. They had no plans to call at Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko's office or take other steps toward the summit unless the Kremlin asked them to.

No Data on Meeting

At mid-afternoon, a Soviet foreign ministry spokesman said he had no information about a meeting between Russian officials and the Western ambassadors today.

The Western allies yesterday accepted the Russian proposal of April 11 for a low-level meeting—but only if their ambassadors could take up major issues and explore them fully. The Soviets proposed that the talks start today.

The Russian idea was to confine the lower-level diplomatic exchanges to deciding on the date and place of a summit meeting. This would commit the West to a top-level meeting before it could find out whether such a conference had any chance of resolving East-West tensions.

Favor Envoy Level

As the identical 500-word notes from the Big Three put it, the West wants to see if there is a reasonable prospect of achieving concrete results.

They said the place to determine that was at the ambassadorial level, not amid the propaganda hurly-burly of gathering of government chiefs.

The West also suggested that lower-level discussions might produce agreement more readily than the Kremlin's perennial barrage of published letters to President Eisenhower and heads of government all around the world.

The Russians have claimed the Western insistence on preliminary talks was nothing more than evasion and called for a summit conference as soon as possible.

Insist on Preparations

The West, suspicious that the Russians only want another forum from which to trumpet propaganda, told the Soviets that a summit conference "will not be fruitful unless ground has been thoroughly prepared in advance, and it is clear from this preparatory work that there is broad agreement on the nature and order of the agenda, and a real desire among all who participate in the meeting to make practical progress towards a settlement of the differences between us."

Red Hook Boy, 14 Dies in Collision

RED HOOK (AP) — A 14-year-old boy was killed last night when his motorbike was in collision with an automobile on Kerley Corners road near here.

The victim was identified as David Rockefeller of Upper Red Hook. The driver of the car, George S. Rockefeller, 22, was not hurt.

Police said the two Rockefellers were distantly related.

Nonsense, Ike's View Of Critics

Promises Fight For Defense Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today accused congressional critics of his defense reorganization plan of talking nonsense and raising far-fetched objections.

Urging swift approval of the controversial plan by Congress, Eisenhower said "peace, national safety—survival itself—demand of America the utmost strength in its every respect—spiritual, intellectual and scientific, as well as economic and military."

Appeals for Support

Formally opening the finish fight he has pledged to make for the reorganization program, Eisenhower appealed for support to two audiences.

His speech was prepared for a luncheon meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors and the International Press Institute. It also was broadcast coast to coast on television and radio.

Eisenhower spoke out in the face of a sharp challenge to his proposal from one of the most influential lawmakers at the Capitol—Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the House Armed Services Committee.

Vinson Raps Plan

Within hours after the President sent his proposal formally to the Congress yesterday, Vinson cut loose in a House speech in which he called it a move toward setting up a "Prussian-type supreme high command."

Vinson also moved to give uniformed critics of the reorganization plan a public forum for their objections. He announced that hearings on the plan, which his committee will start Monday, will be open-door affairs.

No 'Prussian Staff'

Taking note of Vinson criticism without mentioning him by name, Eisenhower said foes of the plan will contend it seeks to set up "a monstrous general staff—usually called 'Prussian'" and that such a staff in the critics view would be set off "to dominate our armed forces and in due course will threaten our liberty."

"That is nonsense," Eisenhower said.

Eisenhower said the fears of critics are "at the least misconceptions" and at the most misrepresentations.

"I repeat," Eisenhower said, "There will be:

"—No Prussian staff;

"—No czar;

"—No 40 billion dollar blank check;

"—No swallowing up of the traditional services;

"—No undermining of the constitutional powers of Congress."

Money to Be Sent States In Few Days

WASHINGTON (AP)—First apportionments of federal funds to the states under the new highway construction bill are expected within the next few days.

A Bureau of Public Roads spokesman, reporting this today, said "we will cooperate with the states just as hard as we can to make this bill work."

Fears Some Defects

President Eisenhower signed the big measure yesterday—the last day on which he could act—but expressed "serious misgivings" about what he called "serious defects" in it.

The President's action was praised by both Democrats and Republicans in Congress. Leaders from both sides said the measure should give a substantial lift to the economy.

For Immediate Use

These are the two apportionments to the states which can be made immediately under the bill:

400 million dollars of extra federal money for fiscal 1959 for primary, secondary and urban road systems—often designated A-B-C roads. This would have to be matched by 200 million of state money but the states could borrow

Labor Calls for Ave Veto Of Anti-Rackets Measure

ALBANY (AP)—The furor over the anti-rackets labor bill mounted today as labor leaders closed ranks in an all-out assault on the Republican measure pending before Gov. Harriman.

With the homestretch of the bill-signing period now in sight, Walter Reuther, David Dubinsky and State CIO President Louis Hollander fired off statements urging Harriman to veto the measure.

An aide to the Democratic governor said "a great many labor spokesmen" had informed Harriman they opposed it. He said their names would become known "in due course."

Harriman made public yesterday a telegram in which Reuther, chief of the United Auto Workers, said that he was "in sympathy with the professed goals" of the bill but that it was not well-drafted legislation and contained many deficiencies.

Hollander said in New York City that his state group agreed with Reuther. He said he urged Harriman last December to defer action until the federal government decided what it was going to do.

Hollander contended that most large unions and companies operate on an interstate basis and that laws varying from state to state would work a handicap.

Dubinsky, president of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union, released in New York a copy of another telegram calling upon the governor to veto the bill, which is designed to restrict financial dealings of union leaders.

The Legislature's GOP leaders, who said they based the bill upon recommendations of one of Harriman's own study committees, figured it might embarrass the governor when he runs for a second term next fall. Harriman expects to have support from organized labor in the campaign.

GOP strategists also figured a veto by Harriman might not set well with the voting public in view of recent publicity about corrupt labor practices.

The GOP state chairman, L. Judson Morhouse, charged yesterday that Reuther's telegram was "obviously drafted for him in Al-

PSC Rules D & H May Revise Fares

ALBANY (AP)—The Public Service Commission today authorized the Delaware & Hudson Railroad to revamp its schedule of fares for commuter tickets.

Both increases and decreases are involved.

Examiner F. Leonard Titus said the change would boost annual revenues by $8,700. He estimated that the line had been losing about $42,000 a year on commuter service.

Most of the D&H commuter travel is between Albany and Saratoga Springs. Increases in fares range to $3.37 for monthly tickets between Albany and Cohoes and decreases to $3.85 on monthly tickets between Albany and Saratoga. The respective charges now are $7.26 and $30.46.

2 Sectors Are After Bus Route

Establishment of a bus route to serve the rapidly growing area in the Towns of Hurley and Ulster in the Lucas Avenue Extension and adjacent area, is being sought.

Petitions are being circulated for signatures of persons residing in that area.

Will Petition PSC

The Public Service Commission will be petitioned to make a survey and ascertain the feasibility of authorizing a franchise in the area.

Under the proposed route outlined in the petition no area now covered by a bus franchise will be included and the route would operate in an area which now has no bus service. Copies of petition are available for signatures at the store of Randall D. Kelder on Lucas Avenue Extension near the Four Corners and at the office of Vogt Brothers Rolling Acres Development off Lucas Avenue Extension. Information in regard to the proposed route may be obtained from Reupen Guillian, at the Vogt Brothers office.

Proposed Route

The proposed route which will be suggested to the Public Service Commission would start at the Kingston Uptown Bus Terminal and operate through the Town of Ulster over Lucas Avenue Extension to the Four Corners, over the Four Corners-Hurley village road to the school, back to Lucas Avenue Extension over Joy's Lane, back to the Four Corners and easterly to the Birchwood Development on the Hurley-DeWitt Lake road, back to the Four Corners and over Lucas Avenue Extension to Kingston.

This route would serve a rapidly growing area and the sponsors of the application feel that the area will continue to grow, making the bus route not only a necessity but a good pay-

Ruling Is Asked on Armory Use

Protest Is Made On Hire for Gain

A decision, as requested last night of the zoning board on future commercial use of the New York State Armory, Manor Avenue, will be given in a month, Attorney Joseph Avis, board chairman said today.

Morton Levine, of 130 Roosevelt Avenue, protested use of the armory, which is in an area of residential character, for the promotion or gain of private enterprise, and he asked the board to rule on merits of the protest.

Looks to Future

Levine indicated that he was not so much concerned with present use of the armory by Union-Fern, Inc., a furniture house, as he was with possible continued use of the building for purposes, which in his opinion, violate the residential character of the area and the rights of its property holders.

Union-Fern, denied use of the Kingston Municipal Auditorium for a large-scale display of its wares, gained use of the armory shortly before its advertised opening date. The concern had issued an elaborate circular advertising the display noting that it would be held at the auditorium. It later included an insert noting the change of place.

Objects to Banners

Among objections in the Levine protest were the use of posters or hanging banners in a residential area, increased traffic, and movement of heavy trucks in and out of the area.

The Union-Fern display opened Wednesday and is running through Saturday, according to advertisements which report "crowds are pouring in."

Attorney Avis said the board's decision was delayed for a month because not enough time had been given in advance of last night's meeting, for full study of the protest.

Notices will be issued to all persons interested in advance of the next board meeting, he said.

May Go to Court

Union-Fern had apparently prepared advertising on the display with the understanding that it would be permitted to hold it in the auditorium. The Common Council's building and supply committee, however, recently decided that use of the building, as requested, would not comply with regulations.

The furniture company has since indicated the possibility of a lawsuit resulting of the council committee's action, but no definite action toward suit has been taken, to date. It was indicated that a suit or claim would be based on the need for unforeseen expenditures as a result of

Will Find Out Architects' Advice About Buildings

Construction of Two New Schools in Kingston Is Under Study, Also Renovations to Local and Rural Structures

Many problems resulting from consolidation with outlying districts are now under study by the Kingston Board of Education, it was indicated at a special meeting of that body last Wednesday night.

Not the least of these is the matter of school facilities in the rural area.

A number of smaller schools will be discontinued and children in their districts transferred to othe designated schools. Tentative plans now under study call for six elementary schools (kindergarten through Grade 6) in the rural areas surrounding Kingston. These schools will probably be Lake Katrine, Chambers, Hurley No. 4, Port Ewen, Tillson and Rifton.

The board authorized the building committee to contact architects and proceed with preliminary discussions regarding school construction and additions which will become necessary under consolidation.

Study Being Made

Facilities at the six outlying schools will depend, of course, on the number of children attending them. A study is now under way to ascertain how many children will enter each of the six schools in the fall.

Dr. Earl F. Soper, superintendent of Kingston schools, pointed out that the board would have to move ahead "as rapidly as possible" and would need "architectural guidance."

School construction needs in the city are also under study.

Program for City

The proposed building program inside the city calls for construction of a new elementary school in the Hasbrouck Park section, construction of a new junior high school, additions to Schools 5 and 6 and elimination of Schools 3 and 4.

Final plans for remodeling of the auditorium at Kingston High School, including installation of a new heating plant, were approved by the board and sent to the State Education Department for study and approval.

Soper Recommendations

Dr. Soper submitted a number of recommendations:

1. Appointment of an assistant superintendent of schools in charge of elementary education.

It would be this person's responsibility to coordinate the administrative, curricular and supervisory functions of the elementary department. He would have directly under him the principals in charge of the attendance areas in the rural districts. He would also have the responsibility for the supervisory program of the supervisors working on curricular problems and supervisory problems. This would include Mrs. Marian Gregory, supervisor of elementary education, and her rural counterpart.

2. Director of pupil personnel services.

Change in Position

"It would be my feeling," Dr. Soper said, "that the position of director of guidance should be made director of pupil personnel services and place him in charge of all such services for the entire school district. In addition to guidance such a director should be responsible for attendance-census (working papers), home teaching, coordinating the dental hygiene program, coordinating the work of the medical staff, including the school nurse-teachers and psychologist . . ."

The board approved the enlargement of office now headed by James Tobin, director of guidance. Tobin now becomes director of pupil personnel services.

3. Supervisor of transportation.

Transportation Problem

Dr. Soper pointed out that since transportation "will be one of our big problems it would be my opinion that we should have someone working on the problems transportation will bring. This person should be assigned to this job at an early date and come up with specific recommendations to the transportation committee of the board of education. I am not presently certain of the type of position we will need. It would be a full-time position. It could be an elementary principal who might have charge of a small school, like School No. 8, and give considerable time to transportation, or it could be a teacher who would be the supervisor of transportation and teach a couple of classes. This person, in my judgment, should be responsible to Mr. Macdonald as assistant superintendent of schools in charge of finance."

Two Put in Charge

4. "It would be my thought that Mr. Richard McLean and Mrs. Catherine Ellsworth would be placed immediately in charge of the rural area to continue the same kind of program now effected in the Kingston schools." McLean is superintendent of maintenance in the city schools. Mrs.

Request Radel to Ask Resignation of Seven

Further action against the local education board came from the Kingston Civic Association through a move last night to get the office of Mayor Edwin F. Radel to seek resignation of the seven members of the board, who voted for school consolidation.

It was reported today that a letter will be drafted, as voted last night in the supervisors' room, court house, to request, through the mayor's office, the resignation of the board members, who favored consolidation, after the proposal was defeated in an April 2 referendum.

To Seek Court Order

The association, this week, also announced that it would seek a court order to restrain the board from affecting consolidation and would, by lawsuit, seek reimbursement from board members to the board's treasury of money spent "to propagandize" consolidation.

The association also revealed that it had sent letters to members of the New York State Board of Regents in a bid to gain full hearing on the education board's action, to date.

Would See Minutes

Last night, it was noted, two of the association's members, Worthington L. Rider, and Eugene DeDea, attended a meeting of the education board, and asked for correspondence and data dealing with consolidation, including the text of minutes of the April 2 meeting at which the board voted 7-1 for consolidation with County Judge Louis G. Bruhn, the only member dissenting.

An attendance of nearly 100 was reported at last night's meeting, and only one in the group failed to support the bid to get members of the education board to resign. The suggestion was made from the floor by a member.

Counsel Obtained

It was noted at the session that the association has competent legal advice to prepare for its court bid to restrain the education board from further action toward consolidation.

Mrs. Ruth Lundeman, of Delmar, who addressed the group, held that the state education department has become a Frankenstein monster. It is dictatorial, she said, practices deception, and has become political in that it seeks to wrest control from the people as well as the politicians.

Standards Criticized

Mrs. Lundeman hit at lowered standards of the department and held that it puts too much emphasis on institutions and housing facilities and not enough on education itself. First consideration, she said, should be given to the personnel factors involved in education, and the last should be on such facilities as the classroom.

Marines Invade Sumatra in Move To End Rebellion

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Marines from Java landed on the west coast of Sumatra today in the Jakarta government's promised major bid to smash the two-month-old rebellion against President Sukarno.

Premier Djuanda said the invaders met little initial resistance.

Begins at Dawn

The navy said the amphibious invasion began at dawn, reportedly at the Indian Ocean beach of Tiku. It is 35 miles west of the rebel mountain capital of Bukittinggi and 50 miles up the coast from the port of Padang. They are the last major centers held by the Sumatran rebels.

The landing of two companies of marine commandos went "according to plan and was highly successful," the navy said. A spokesman predicted that the rebellion would be crushed within a week.

Little Resistance

Djuanda announced six hours after the landing that "there was resistance but it was negligible." The main rebel defense preparations had been made at Padang, where Dr. Sjafruddin Prawiranegara proclaimed the rebel government Feb. 15.

There was no immediate word whether more troops had followed the marines ashore and whether the invaders were pushing inland toward Bukittinggi or down the coast from Padang.

Cabinet Remains

County Schools to Receive $2,148,045 In State Aid; Kingston Gets $659,229

School districts in Ulster County will receive $2,148,045 as their share of the $242,455,518 record distribution of state aid for education, a local increase over last year of $158,935, it was announced today by State Comptroller Arthur Levitt.

The Kingston School system will receive $659,229; Saugerties Central School District No. 1, $243,391 and the supervisory districts, $1,245,425.

Supports Common Schools

The sum is being distributed to the school districts of the state as the state's share in the support of common schools. This is the largest distribution ever made by the State for any one purpose and represents approximately one half of the total paid by the state for the support of public schools during the school year 1957-58. The payment is $19,274,407 more than the previous record of $223,181,110 distributed to the school districts in April of 1957.

A total of $164,676,518 is being paid to city and village school districts and supervisory districts. It represents the final payment of aid to them on the basis of the 1956-57 school year statistics.

A total of $77,779,000 is being paid to five so-called deferred payment cities which includes the City of New York. This represents the second installment of state aid on the basis of the 1956-57 school year statistics. The final payment will be made to this group in September. The City of New York receives $70,164,000—the largest payment ever made by the state to the city at one time for state aid. The other cities in this category are: Albany, Rochester, Syracuse and Yonkers.

Checks have been mailed to the county treasurers who will distribute the money to the fiscal officers of the individual school districts in accordance with apportionment computations made by the State Education Department and audited by the State Department of Audit and Control.

Average Toll

1957 U.S. Fires Took 11,300 Lives

BOSTON (AP)—Fire took the lives of approximately 11,300 Americans in 1957, despite continuing campaigns for greater safety. Of these some 6,400 were killed by fires in their homes.

This figure, reported by the National Fire Protection Assn. is described as an average death toll in recent years. The NFPA says this means slow progress in the effort for greater fire-safety, the only improvement being the fact that the yearly average toll has not been increasing with the growth of population.

26 PC Under 10

Some 26 per cent of all persons killed were children under the age of 10. And 20 per cent of those killed were persons over 70. In home fires, statistics indicate 65 per cent of all deaths are among children up to 14 years and persons of 65 or older.

What are the principal causes of dwelling fires? The NFPA statistics are: Smoking and matches — and children playing with matches—about 21 per cent; defective and overheated cooking and heating equipment, including oil stoves and space heaters, 14 per cent; defective and overheated electrical wiring and appliances, 13 per cent; rubbish ignited in various ways, 8 per cent.

Defective Top Cause

The top causes of fire deaths in homes, however, take a different sequence, according to the association's engineers. They list defective and overheated equipment, with oil stove as the worst offender, as the cause of 30 per cent of all fire deaths in homes.

Then, in order, other principal causes are smoking and matches, 11 per cent; misuse of flammable liquids — from paint to gasoline and cleaning agents — 7 per cent; electricity — defective wiring and appliances — 4 per cent, and poor housekeeping, accumulated rubbish, etc., 3 per cent.

Wild Horses

The Przhevalski's horse of Mongolia is a true wild horse, unlike the wild horse found on the plains of the American west, which were descendants of domestic horses that escaped from captivity..

Hollywood News, Views

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"Would you hire Lana Turner for a movie?"

This question was put to a dozen producers this week at the Screen Producers Guild dinner. These are the men who make the casting decisions, who can make or break a star.

Their answer was unanimous: Absolutely yes.

"I wouldn't hesitate to cast her in a picture if I had the right property," said Buddy Adler, production chief at 20th Century-Fox.

"I not only would cast her, I'm actively seeking her for 'The Sound and the Fury,'" said Jerry Wald, who produced Lana's current starring film, "Peyton Place." He added:

Sympathetic Response

"We've had a spot check around the country of reactions by audiences watching 'Peyton Place.' The response has been warm and sympathetic."

Said David O. Selznick: "Certainly I would cast Lana if I had the right part for her. Church authorities have stated that they will not censure performers because of their private lives."

Producer-star John Wayne was vehement in his reply: "Sure, I'd hire her! If people don't stop picking on that poor girl, I'd star her in the Green Rushes." He referred to the uncut versions of a day's work in a studio.

Tide in Her Direction

Veteran Bryan Foy remarked: "Lana will be bigger than ever. The tide of public opinion is going in her direction."

William Thomas, a veteran exploiter of films, had this realistic comment: "I'd like to have a small piece of her next picture. It'll be a smash. It's what you call a freak attraction—people who haven't seen a movie will go to watch her. After the first picture, her career will settle down to what it was before."

Ironic Situation

It is ironic that Lana's first picture after her daughter Cherryl's fatal stabbing of Johnny Stompanato will be the one on which she stands to profit the most. The film is "Another Time, Another Place," the first production by her own Lanturn Productions.

Paramount is releasing the film and is rushing it into the nation's theaters in the next few weeks. The story is a dramatic one. Lana plays a newspaper writer in wartime Britain who falls in love with an English pilot, not knowing that he is married. After he is killed in a raid, she goes to the home of his wife and daughter and makes friends with them.

The film also features Barry Sullivan, Glynis Johns and Sean Connery.

A Peak in Tragedy

Lana finds herself at the peak of her career as a moneymaker in her moment of tragedy. Her career was in the doldrums after a series of flop costume epics at MGM. As a free-lancer, she did "Peyton Place," which is shaping up as one of the top grossing films of all time.

Oddly, Lana was reluctant to do the film. She didn't want to play the mother of a grown daughter. She insisted that an unknown play her daughter, and the plum role fell to newcomer Diana Varsi.

Accountants Will Hear Address On Mechanization

Eril R. Cohan, manager of the Management Controls Department for Peat, Marwick, Mitchell and Company of New York City, will be the principal speaker at the regular meeting of the Mid-Hudson Chapter, National Association of Accountants, Monday evening, April 21, at the Nelson House, Poughkeepsie.

His topic will be "Tricks in Mechanization of Cost Accounting." The chapter will also be receiving a visit from its national vice-president, Raymond D. Stowell.

The social period will be held at 6 p. m. with dinner being served at 6:30. The technical session will follow: Hamilton Meharg, chapter president will preside. Reservations for approximately 100 members and guests are expected.

Cohan has had broad experience in the cost accounting field covering a period of 20 years and for the past six years has been serving professionally in his present capacity. He has been instrumental in devising the mechanics and establishing the procedures for performing various cost accounting functions through punch card techniques.

Ex-Coolidge Aide Dies

ROCHESTER (AP)—Brig. Gen. Oscar Solbert (Ret.), once a West Point instructor to President Eisenhower and a military aide to President Coolidge, died of a heart attack last night. He was 73.

He died in his residence at the George Eastman House, where he had been director since 1948. The house is now a museum. It was formerly the home of the late founder of the Eastman Kodak Co.

A native of Sweden, Solbert graduated with honors from West Point and served as instructor in engineering there from 1912 to 1915, when President Eisenhower was a cadet.

A LITTLE MISTAKE - - -

The catalogue of mistakes a driver can make on the open road is long. Some are so rash only the wildest ever make them. Some are so casual that few realize the trouble they can cause.

One of the most dangerous in the casual category is swinging onto a main highway from a side road or a roadside stop at an ill-fated moment.

In Baytown, Tex., that happened the other day with terrible result. The driver of an automobile whipped onto a main artery smack in front of a big gasoline truck.

She, too, hit the brake pedal hard. But she couldn't stop, and plowed broadside into the truck.

The gasoline exploded, the truck swayed and toppled onto her car. The woman, her four children and the truck driver died in raging flames.

Probably unaware of what happened, the driver of the auto drove off down the road. On him—or her—rests the responsibility for this tragedy.

It occurred because that driver, like countless others, either was too thoughtless and impatient to observe the rules or never learned how to enter a main highway.

The rules are simple, rooted in common sense. You never spin out directly in front of an oncoming car. You wait for a space big enough for you to slip into without forcing the next car on the road to reduce his speed sharply.

Admittedly, these judgments can sometimes call for delicate calculations of speed and distance.

But such measurements are the very heart of good driving.

If you can't make them, any highway is a death trap for you and all the others you involve.

To be responsible for a highway death and know it is very bad. To be responsible and not know it is almost worse.

None of us should ever drive onto a main road as if other drivers either could or should stop for us. To assume that is to invite disaster like that which struck near Baytown.

An industrial magazine suggests that Walter Reuther set up his own automobile company and try to prove his employe profit-sharing plan is no fallacy. If he had the money to do this he probably wouldn't want to risk losing it.

HOME IMPROVEMENT DRIVE

The Empire State Chamber of Commerce, which is cooperating with the State Department of Commerce and other statewide organizations in the "Do It Now Campaign," estimates that there is $4,300,000 worth of home improvement work ready to be done by residents of Ulster County.

The Chamber's estimate is based upon the 1950 census of residential units plus a conservative estimate of new housing units constructed since the census was taken. Figuring the estimated volume of spending at $100 per dwelling unit, the Empire State Chamber places the number of units in the county at approximately 43,000.

The estimated home improvement expenditures for the immediate Hudson Valley region would run some $15,000,000. Throughout the state the figure for home improvement business within the next 90 days is placed at over $500 million.

The Chamber has called upon its member organizations to take the lead in setting up community organizations to implement the program.

The unemployment situation here and elsewhere in the state would be lessened if all those who are financially able would start now on having necessary repairs and improvements made to their homes.

DIARIES

There was a time when great men knew that they were great and they wrote books about themselves. Perhaps the most famous of these is Julius Caesar's account of himself and his wars which every schoolboy had to learn as part of his education before the saxophone and skin-diving became cultural subjects.

More recently, great men hire press agents and ghost writers to do such jobs, as, for instance, Wendell Willkie hired Joe Barnes to do his "One World" book and, for that matter, the aforesaid Barnes aided General Eisenhower to do his "Crusade in Europe." However, Winston Churchill and Herbert Hoover continue to do their own, unassisted by experts in spelling and punctuation.

Hoover's book on Woodrow Wilson, shortly to appear, contains considerable new data, much of it from correspondence heretofore unavailable and from private diaries, hidden away in the libraries of universities and in The Hoover Institution on War, Revolution, and Peace, situated at Stanford University in California.

Upon inquiry I find that The Hoover Institution, contains a large accumulation of diaries, in many languages, some of which can be of great value to the future historian. A sample of what they have at The Hoover Institution follows:

General Joseph W. Stilwell—from Pearl Harbor through World War II.

V. I. Gurko—Assistant Russian Minister of the Interior and Member of the Russian State Council under Czar Nicholas II.

Rudolph Holsti—Finnish Minister of Foreign Affairs.

Frieda Schmidt—anti-Nazi German in Munich, for most of the Nazi years.

Simeon A. Villa—on the staff of Aguinaldo in the Philippines."

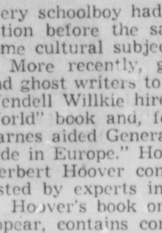

Diaries are difficult to get because families like to hold on to them for sentimental or monetary reasons. Often the great man of a former era becomes a forgotten man of succeeding eras and his well-kept diary may be of no value because the fellow was dishonest to himself. He wrote for publication. The greatest value of a diary over an autobiography is that the diary can be a mirror of a man's soul whereas the autobiography is what he wants people to believe about him. Harry Truman's autobiography, for instance, while it contains much interesting data, is historically not too valuable because Harry appraises Harry as only his best friends think of him. Maybe Harry has kept a diary and some day, we shall know of his trials and tribulations, his doubts, his fears, his uncertainties.

Thus far, there has been no correct account of Franklin D. Roosevelt. Biographical material about Roosevelt is plentiful, but it is written by friend or foe and much is obviously untrue for no such perfection ever existed on this Earth and no such devil could long survive his own shadow. If Roosevelt kept a diary it has been kept quiet, and is unavailable for our vulgar eyes. It would be historically of value to know what Roosevelt thought of his spouse, Eleanor. Perhaps all that will become available and we shall have a true picture of the man.

Roosevelt was a cynic to a degree and one wonders what he thought of the characters, Republican as well as Democrat, who after 1936, invaded his Administration to make careers for themselves. Some of them were peculiarities in American life and some are still around, looking here and there for public approval and a jjob with which also goes applause. He introduced so many of them to the American people that he must have had a special penchant for the breed. But such private views would only appear in a diary or in letters written to a particularly appreciative lady.

The Hoover Institution probably needs money, as all such organizations do, but it would be valuable if they sorted out their collections of diaries and letters and had them published for all to read who are curious about what really makes the human race act as it does.

Mongoloid Birth Remains An Unpreventable Tragedy

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Each year, it is believed, about 10,000 children are born in the United States who are labeled as mongoloid because of certain physical features and retarded mentality. Many die at or soon after birth, but there are an estimated 28,000 to 60,000 such children living.

The birth of a mongoloid child results in enormous distress to the parents and their friends and relatives, and I am often asked to discuss it.

In mongolism, the skull is small and round, the slits for the eyes are narrow and tilted and a fold is present over the inner margin of the eye. The cheeks are often red, the hair is coarse, the teeth appear late, the tongue tends to protrude and the nose is stubby and depressed, with the nostrils angling forward.

The name "mongolism" comes from the facial appearance, which is something like that of the Asiatic race known as Mongols.

MOST MONGOLOID children are happy and friendly. During infancy they are great imitators and often like music. However, they often do not speak properly and the voice tends to be rough and harsh.

Numerous possible causes have been suggested, studied and abandoned. Some people think, or at least have thought, that mongolism comes from some hereditary tendency, the exact nature of which has not yet been discovered.

In recent years, however, most of those who have studied the subject agree that there is a definite relationship between the age of the mother and the frequency of mongolism in a child. In other words, the older the mother, the greater the chance of having a mongoloid child.

MOST DOCTORS, I believe, feel that mongoloid children should be sent to an institution as soon as possible after birth. This early separation before emotional ties have been formed seems to be frequently the best solution both for family and child.

Some physicians and parents disagree and report that mongoloid children have been kept at home with considerable success. There are, of course, exceptions to every rule.

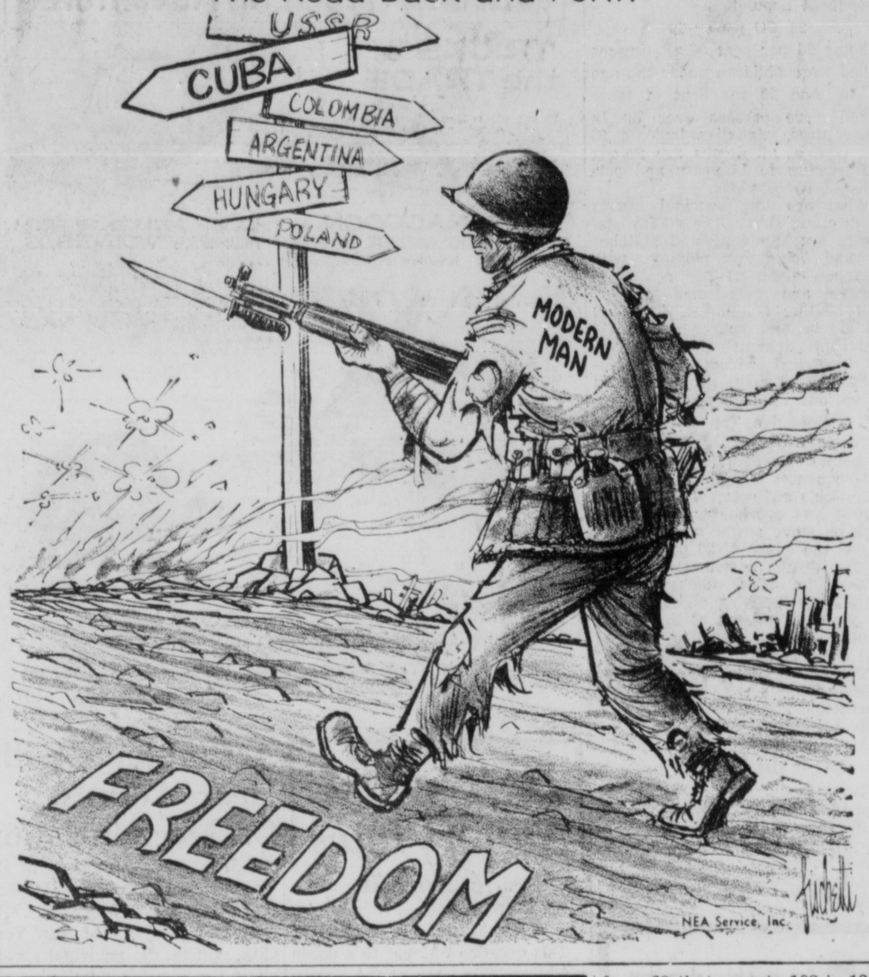

However, this question, no matter how decided, should be considered early. One factor in making it is the effect of such a child on other normal children in the family.

In the fact of much ignorance about mongolism—and considerable difference of opinion—one thing seems sure: The birth of a mongoloid child, while a shock to the parents, is not their fault.

There is nothing about mongolism of which the parents should be ashamed. Today there is nothing which they or anyone else could have done to prevent its occurrence.

The chances that other children born later will be normal are about 20 to one. This is not as good as for those who have never had a mongoloid child, but is still an outlook which need not always discourage the parents unduly.

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—President Eisenhower's press conference statement that it's more normal than abnormal for the cost of living to go up while business levels down isn't borne out by the economists' statistics and graphs.

The situation today is that gross national product of goods and services, or GNP, dropped from an annual rate of 440 billion dollars in the third quarter of 1957 to 432 billion in the fourth quarter. First quarter 1958 figures are not yet available. Informed guesses are that they will show an annual rate of 425 billion dollars.

FEDERAL RESERVE Board's index of industrial production has dropped from its high of 145, June to August 1957, to 130 for February 1958.

In this period, the consumers' price index, or cost of living, has risen steadily. It was 120 last June and July, 100 being the 1947-49 average. It was 122 in February.

It takes a book to explain what has happened in full. But Ewen Clague, the Commissioner of Labor Statistics who supervises the consumers' price index, explains it by breaking the cost of living into its three main elements.

These are foods, commodities other than foods like clothing and automobiles, finally consumers' services like utilities, health, entertainment and rent.

Consumer services have been rising steadily for 20 years. They will probably keep on rising, whether general business levels go up or down.

Recent rises in the costs of fruits and vegetables are blamed on bad weather in Florida, Texas and California. Crops have been ruined. Supplies have gone down, prices up.

Meat prices reached bottom in 1955 when there was heavy marketing of beef and hogs. Prices went so low that farmers cut their herds. This reduced supply. Prices started rising through the normal short-supply winter season.

SO FOOD PRICES have had little to do with general business levels. On commodities other than foods there are seasonal fluctuations just as on foods.

Clothing and other soft goods prices usually rise in the fall and winter for Christmas trade. Prices on hard goods like automobiles also go up in the fall when new models are introduced.

This time, all these increases happened to coincide with the general business decline. This is abnormal.

The United States has been through one major depression and five lesser recessions in the last 30 years.

In the big bust of 1930-33, GNP, translated into 1956 price levels, dropped from 186 to 129 billion dollars.

In these same years, index of industrial production dropped from 59 in 1929 to 31 in 1932. The 1947-49 average is taken as 100 for this index number.

In this depression, the cost of living index dropped from 73 in 1929 to 55 in 1933, the 1947-49 average being 100. This was considered normal economic behavior.

The country went into another, but smaller tail-spin from 1937 to 1938. GNP dropped from 190 to 181 billion dollars. The production index dropped from 61 to 48.

Cost of living index dropped from 61 in 1937 to 60 in 1939, to 59 in 1939 and 1940. This was considered normal.

In World War II years, of course, everything went up.

But in the immediate postwar slump, GNP dropped from 332 billion dollars in 1944 to 289 billion in 1947. Industrial production dropped from 197 in 1943 to 90 in 1946. This reflected cancellation of war orders.

IN THIS PERIOD, however, cost of living index—which had started to rise in 1941—went from 62 that year to 102 in 1948. This reflected not only the removal of wartime price controls. It was also the inflation caused by shortages and pent-up consumer demand for goods and services not available in war times. This was abnormal.

In the smaller 1948-49 recession, GNP dropped from 302 to 301 billion dollars. Industrial production index dropped from 104 to 97. Cost of living dropped 102 to 101. This was another normal, general decline, though a small one.

In the post-Korean war recession of 1953-54, GNP dropped from 382 to 375 billion dollars. Industrial production index dropped from 134 to 125. But the cost of living index stood steady at 114 from 1953 through 1955.

Thus out of six dips in the economy in 30 years, prices have declined with business three times—1929, 1937 and 1949. Prices held steady while business declined in 1954. Prices have advanced twice, abnormally, during the business declines of 1945 and 1958.

Growing Herds

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—A University of Wisconsin statistician finds the average Wisconsin dairy herd increased from 20 cows to 27½ milking animals in 10 years. El Malcheski, dairy records analyst, also reports total costs on typical farms rose 43 per cent in 10 years while the dairy producers' gross income rose 23 per cent.

Defense of Oppenheimer Called Contrary to Record

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — J. Robert Oppenheimer, who was ruled to be a "security risk" by the Atomic Energy Commission in 1954, made a speech here Tuesday before the International Press Institute. Whatever mistakes he might have made in the past would not have come into public notice again, but the American chairman of the meeting, in introducing Dr. Oppenheimer, gave to the assembled journalists from all over the world an erroneous impression of why the scientist was denied access to security data. This needs to be clarified lest an important group of newsmen from foreign lands depart with a mistaken concept of what American policy was in this case. The chairman said:

"The charge, in brief, was excessive loyalty to one or two very old friends, and an occasional disdainful attitude toward the cops, and I submit to you, ladies and gentlemen, those are two solid, sterling American traits. Unfortunately they were somewhat out of style during a few months in 1954."

The chairman added that there is "right now an ever-growing demand in these United States and particularly in the scientific community, that Dr. Oppenheimer be returned to active work for his government."

Different Opinions Cited

No doubt there are some Americans who feel that way and sincerely believe that what Dr. Oppenheimer did should not have caused him to be removed from the government councils on scientific matters. There are others who feel that, had Dr. Oppenheimer's advice against developing the H-bomb been followed, an important weapon would not perhaps have been available to the United States and that this country would subsequently have been at a serious disadvantage against Soviet Russia.

But the facts show the Atomic Energy Commission did not remove Dr. Oppenheimer from government councils because of the advice he gave against making the H-bomb but solely because of his lack of co-operation in security matters.

Thus the decision of the Atomic Energy Commission in June, 1945, reads in part as follows:

"Dr. Oppenheimer has now admitted under oath that while in charge of the Los Alamos laboratory and working on the most secret weapon development for the government, he told Colonel Pash a fabrication of lies. Colonel Pash was an officer of military intelligence charged with the duty of protecting the atomic weapons project against spies. Dr. Oppenheimer told Colonel Pash in circumstancial detail of an attempt by a Soviet agent to obtain from him information about the work on the atom bomb. This was the Haakon Chevalier incident. In the hearings recently concluded, Dr. Oppenheimer under oath swears that the story he told Colonel Pash was a 'whole fabrication and tissue of lies.'

Admissions Recalled

"It is not clear today whether gave to Colonel Pash in 1943 the account of Dr. Oppenheimer concerning the Chevalier incident or the story he told the Gray board last month is the true version.

"If Dr. Oppenheimer lied in 1943, as he now says he did, he committed the crime of knowingly making false and material statements to a Federal officer. If he lied to the board, he committed perjury in 1954....

"Dr. Oppenheimer under oath, admitted to the Gray board that from 1937 to at least 1942 he made regular and substantial contributions in cash to the Communist party. He has admitted that he was a 'fellow traveler' at least until 1942. He admits that he attended small evening meetings at private homes at which most, if not all, of the others present were Communist party members. He was in contact with officials of the Communist party, some of whom had been engaged in espionage....

Defaults Charged

"However, Dr. Oppenheimer's early Communist associations are not in themselves a controlling reason for our decision. They take on importance in the context of his persistent and continuing association with Communists, including his admitted meetings with Haakon Chevalier in Paris as recently as last December (1953)—the same individual who had been intermediary for the Soviet consulate in 1943 . . .

"It is clear that for one who has had access for so long to the most vital defense secrets of the government and who would retain such access if his clearance were continued, Dr. Oppenheimer has defaulted not once but many times upon the obligations that should and must be willingly borne by citizens in the national service.

"Concern for the defense and security of the United States requires that Dr. Oppenheimer's clearance should not be reinstated."

Murray Opinion Cited

If it was "excessive loyalty" to his friends by Dr. Oppenheimer and less concern for the maintenance of the security regulations of his own government, can this be regarded in the circumstances as a "solid, sterling American trait"? was it also just "occasional disdainful attitude toward the cops"? Or was it, as the official record shows, a case of "deliberately misleading" the Cops? Commissioner Thomas E. Murray, who was one of four members of the Atomic Energy Commission who voted to deny Dr. Oppenheimer security clearance, went farther than all his colleagues. In a concurring opinion, after reviewing the evidence, he said flatly of the noted scientist: "He was disloyal."

The commission itself did not charge disloyalty but a "persistent and willful disregard for the obligations of security."

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Science raises the possibility that a man can buy a ticket to the nearest star and come back maybe a boy.

This idea is based on the theory that the faster you go the younger you get. We have seen this tried many times and can't count any winners — although we recall a number who died smiling among their wrinkles.

The conception of time is a hard thing for any human to embrace. It makes him a prisoner of the calendar, the moon, the seasons, the years, the watch upon his wrist, his own suspicions or the estimate of others. He feels, even though his years cannot accurately be measured by his falling hair, he still, like a tree, has his inevitable annual rings, made visible to others in ways he does not know.

Is he older than he feels? Is he younger than he knows? How tell?

A Few Good Tips

Here is a baedecker of personal antiquity:

You're older if you pause before a flight of stairs, take a deep breath — then gallop up them a step at a time.

You're younger if you boldly wink at a pretty girl . . . and don't pretend to wipe clinker out of your eye.

You're older if your wife has to gear your pride up to make you ask for a raise.

You're younger if you think raises come for merit and you feel too proud to ask for one.

You're younger if your wear a hat in the summer merely to be better dressed and hope that'll make a sale.

Can Tell by the Girls

You're older if you see a beautiful girl and she reminds you of a girl you used to know.

You're younger if you see the same girl and feel your life won't be complete until you know her.

You're older if you think that over the hill lies the poor house.

You're younger if you think that every molehill is a fresh stepping stone to opportunity.

You're older if the boss puts his arm around your shoulder and you feel the loneliness in his fingers.

Moon Figures

You're older if, on a moonlit night, your wife sighs and you know what you are both missing.

You're younger if you look at the moon and wonder who'll be first to land on it.

You're younger if you're too busy talking at a cocktail party to pause and admire a sunset.

You're older if all this stirs an echo in you.

So They Say..

It is a risk (continued nuclear testing), but a tolerable risk. It's a risk we can and should tolerate in view of the present state of affairs.

—Groucho Marx, on the same subject.

Lack of motivation — a desire to get a job and get a hot rod car or get married rather than continue learning — is the chief problem (among bright high school graduates who don't go to college).

Pretender

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Harry A. Deadman was fined $15 after he pretended to be dead drunk. The 19-year-old youth was lifted into a squad car when he was found on the street, apparently helpless. Deadman sobered immediately and explained he merely was amusing himself by pretending to be drunk. Police were not amused. They changed their complaint from drunkenness to disorderly conduct, and the court fined him $15.

Nabbed

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP) — A quirk of fate ended Thomas Yoder's three-year absence from the eye of a probation officer who had seen his charge only once after he pleaded guilty to burglary. Capt. Elmer J. Janssens and Detective Sgt. Chester C. Brandt were walking along Chicago's State Street when they spotted Yoder, 39, working in an arcade. They obtained a warrant for his arrest and brought him back to Rock Island to show cause why his two-year probation should not be revoked.

Crazy-Quilt Pattern to Mark DST Across Nation April 27

By The Associated Press

A crazy-quilt pattern of daylight saving time will dot the nation beginning April 27.

Some states will observe it; some not. Parts of other states will join in. Most of those that do go on "fast time" will end it Oct. 26; others on Sept. 28 and other dates.

Generally, the pattern is about the same as last year.

Favored in Northeast

The practice of yawning an hour early to get an extra hour of daylight in the evening finds most solid favor in the northeast—but skips across the country to California. Farmers are the chief opponents.

All the New England states will observe daylight saving time from April 27 until Oct. 26, as will New York, New Jersey, most of Pennsylvania, Delaware and Washington, D. C.

Others setting the clocks ahead an hour will be Indiana, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Nevada and California.

Some on All Winter

Parts of Indiana, in the central time belt, already are an hour ahead. Some areas in the northeast part of the state, including Fort Wayne and Elkhart, and in the southeast near Cincinnati have been on eastern time by local option all through the winter.

States with split schedules include Illinois, Ohio, Missouri, Kentucky, Virginia, West Virginia, Alabama and Florida.

In Illinois, where local option prevails, about 500 communities, including the Chicago metropolitan area and large downstate cities, will go on daylight time April 27. Most will resume standard time Sept. 28, but the Chicago metropolitan area will stay on daylight until Oct. 26.

Ohio Is Divided

The northeast corner of Ohio will go on daylight time, with the rest of the state on standard.

In Missouri, daylight time will be observed in the St. Louis metropolitan area and Poplar Bluff but not elsewhere.

Kentucky has a complex situation. The Legislature banned fast time after June 19. Louisville will go on daylight time from April 27 until June 14, then switch back to central standard time unless the new law is defeated in court. Louisville schools and many factories will leave the clocks on standard time but start the day an hour early.

Florida Stays EST

Florida will remain on standard time with the exception that Eglin Air Force Base in the northwest section will go on daylight time May 11.

In New Mexico, Los Alamos will go on daylight time April 27, but the rest of the state will stay on standard.

Other states generally are staying on standard time. Some states not only do not go on daylight time, but ban it by law, among them Tennessee and Washington.

Varied Uses

Tails serve animals as fly swatters, as signals, as instruments of communication, as extra hands and as tools of many uses.

Midwest Barley Combines With Shrimp Cantonese

"THE TWAIN" do meet—often—when Chinese cookery joins Midwest barley in a union like this Shrimp Cantonese dish.

By GAYNOR MADDOX,
NEA Food and Markets Editor

In cosmopolitan Middle West cities like Chicago, Omaha, Minneapolis and Kansas City, Chinese, Japanese, German, Italian and French restaurants have popped up in great numbers. Midwest grains such as barley, oats, wheat and corn are in large quantities in these restaurants in German dumplings, Italian spaghetti, etc.

This barley with shrimp Cantonese is a delicious example.

Shrimp Cantonese in Barley Ring
(6 servings)

Barley Ring: One and one-half cups barley, 6 cups water, 1½ teaspoons salt, 1/3 cup butter, ¼ cup chopped onion, ½ cup chopped mushrooms, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon salt.

Shrimp Cantonese: One cup sliced celery, ½ cup sliced green pepper, ¼ cup sliced green onions, 3 cups water, 4 tablespoons cornstarch, 2 tablespoons soy sauce, 1/3 cup cold water, ½ teaspoon bead molasses, 1 No. 2 can bean sprouts, drained; 2 cups cooked shrimp, 1 tomato, cut into wedges.

For the barley ring, cook barley in boiling salted water about 45 minutes. Melt butter in a frying pan over medium heat. Add onions, mushrooms, salt and pepper; saute until onions are transparent. Add barley and stir well to thoroughly combine with butter mixture. Pack firmly into a well-greased 1½-quart ring mold. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 20-25 minutes.

For the shrimp Cantonese, place celery, green pepper, onions and 3 cups water in saucepan. Bring to a boil over high heat. Boil 2 minutes. Mix cornstarch, soy sauce, cold water and bead molasses until thoroughly blended. Slowly add cornstarch mixture to boiling vegetables. Cook until thickened and clear. Stir in bean sprouts, shrimp and tomato wedges. Heat thoroughly.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Tomato juice, shrimp Cantonese in barley ring, carrot sticks, garlic French bread, lemon sherbet, ginger oatmeal cookies, coffee, tea, milk.

SHOKAN — Members of the Olive Post American Legion Auxiliary at their April meeting voted to make a donation to the Onteora School P-TA for child welfare activities. The local Auxiliary is sponsoring two Girl Scout troops. Mrs. Irving Hesley had prepared an interesting paper on Honduras. The refreshments committee included Mrs. Hesley, Mabel Weidner and Mrs. Robert Shultis.

Patrick Kelly of Inwood, L. I. made a weekend visit to the Kelly family summer home near the old state road.

Dr. Henry Diephius of Bergen County who has a summer place at Phoenicia, his wife and daughter were Shokan callers Thursday.

Both parking space and standing room were at a premium down at the Ashokan Reservoir dividing weir fishing ground Sunday. What with the West basin overflowing the weir and the east basin filled to capacity, the prospects for early season success with the trout and pike look bright indeed.

Birthdays April 17 include those of Mrs. Cecil Gray, Olive Bridge storekeeper for the past 25 years. The former Ethel Davis of Krumville has a daughter, Lois, who married Russell Kortright of Kerhonkson.

Francis Waters, who was well known locally as a timber buyer in the early '20s, was a Shokan caller Monday.

Mrs. William J. Loos and two daughters of Inwood spent several days last week at their Ridge Road bungalow. Mrs. Loos reports that her nephew, James Carpenter Jr., and his wife now make their home at Fresh Meadows, L. I. Jimmy, a Rensselaer graduate, is employed at Sperry Gyroscope.

The volt, unit of electromotive force, was named for Count Alessandro Volta, Italian physicist (1745-1827).

Strapping Philosophy

DECATUR, Ga. (AP)—John C. Cragg, 38-year-old principal of Southwest DeKalb High School, has his own, old-fashioned preventive for juvenile delinquency. It is a two-inch-wide leather strap which he uses on boys of any grade when he feels their misconduct deserves it. The dosage usually is 10 licks and the offender is given his choice of accepting suspension in lieu of the whipping but few ever take that way out, Cragg says. He estimates that not more than one per cent of approximately 1,800 students ever feel the strap but "every one of them knows I have one." Cragg believes that the leather has "straightened out many a would-be delinquent" and says many whom he has whipped have later thanked him for it.

Matches Sharper 49-50 Slump

U. S. Production Down 15 Billion From Boom Level

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government officials estimated today the nation's production rate has fallen about 15 billion dollars a year below the boom level of six months ago.

The Commerce Department's estimate of total national output, soon to be released, reportedly will show that the 7½ billion dollar skid in the last quarter of 1957 was approximately equalled by the further drop in first-quarter 1958.

Trends Downward

The report will bolster the evidence that the recession already is deeper than that of 1953-54, informants said, and in several respects is matching the sharper slump of 1949-50.

The trends last month still were downward. The fall was less rapid, and this has stiffened the resistance of key administration advisers to quick anti-recession remedies—a general tax cut or massive public works.

So far no official has answered the question: What level of unemployment—or production and income—will the administration take as the alarm signal for emergency federal action?

Say Bottom Near

Some officials contend they see signs that the bottom is near. Among others Sen. Byrd (D-Va) said today he drew that inference from information compiled by the Senate Finance Committee. But others are calling for prompt action.

The forthcoming Commerce Department report, officials said privately, will show that the "gross national product"—the value of all goods and services produced—has dipped to an annual rate of roughly 425 billion dollars or less.

This is a bit more than 3 per cent below last summer's 440 billion dollar rate. It was a trifle greater than the percentage decline from top to bottom of the 1953-54 recession. It matches the more severe 1949-50 decline when that recession was half a year old.

Government economists searching for clues to the pattern of the next few months have been pouring over an unusual series of charts prepared by the privately supported Committee for Economic Development.

Comparisons Disturbing

The CED is a non-profit economic research organization of businessmen. It found the comparisons sufficiently disturbing to promote its recent proposal for a temporary, across-the-board, 20 per cent cut in income taxes to boost public purchasing power.

The 1949-50 recession was sharp but fairly short, partly because the Korean War began in June 1950. Most indicators showed a clear upturn within 8 months to a year.

The 1953-54 recession was less severe, but a good deal slower to reach the turning point.

Doubts Early Uptrend

So far the present recession has been as sharp, in many respects, as that of 1949-50. To CED's research staff it seems doubtful that an uptrend will be as early or as pronounced. Some buoyant elements are missing. Housing starts, which were rising in 1949-50, are now depressed. Government spending was rising steeply in 1949-50, but is moving up very gradually this year. Retail sales were still rising in 1949-50; they are declining now. And prices dropped in 1949-50; today their steady climb is discouraging consumer demand.

On the other hand, the personal income of Americans has held up much better in the past six months than it did in 1949-50 (but not so well as in 1953-54). This presumably is because of improved unemployment compensation and social security benefits, more employer-paid supplemental benefits, and other cushions. Many more jobless men have some income who would have been on relief 10 years ago.

Police May Quiz Artist, Was Shot 3 Times by Wife

DARIEN, Conn. (AP)—Police today hope to question artist John Potter Wheat, who they say was shot three times yesterday by his wife.

The artist, noted for his water color landscapes of New England, was under sedation most of yesterday and was unable to answer questions. Officials at Stamford Hospital reported his condition as satisfactory.

Wheat, 37, was hit by three .38 caliber slugs. Two lodged in his chest and neck and the other went through his right shoulder.

Police said his 38-year-old wife Barbara fired the bullets from an automatic pistol. She was charged with assault with intent to murder. The woman was freed under $15,000 bond pending court appearance April 24.

Police Chief J. Edmund Brencher declined to discuss the shooting but called it "something both of them now seem anxious to forgive and forget." He would not say if Mrs. Wheat made a statement.

Charges Defense Muzzled News on Missiles, Moons

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American Society of Newspaper Editors was told today the Defense Department has manipulated information in an attempt to manage the news about missiles and satellites.

The charge was made by Rep. Moss (D-Calif), chairman of the House government information subcommittee. Moss' bill to remove some government secrecy wraps was approved unanimously by the House yesterday.

Called Dangerous Move

Moss told 400 editors, opening their annual meeting here, that immediately after the Russians sent Sputnik I into space the Pentagon issued secret orders to "muzzle the experts who could explain our predicament."

Within the past few days, Moss added in his prepared speech, President Eisenhower has issued a "dangerous" directive to Secretary of Defense McElroy calling for tighter control over Defense Department information as a curb on interservice rivalries.

"Under the President's new instructions," Moss said, "this abuse of the security system would become worse, with Mr. Snyder (Asst. Secretary of Defense Murray Snyder) apparently set up as the undisputed censor of what the public shall know about the vast military establishment.

"The nation no longer can afford the withholding and manipulation of information merely to suit 'policies.'"

Hails Some Gains

Moss charged that the handling of information on missiles and satellites has been "an example of management of the news on a colossal scale."

"Security has been perverted as a tool of censorship," he said. "Controversy has been smothered and shortcomings hidden in the name of national security."

However, the society hailed some gains in its long war on news suppression.

Herbert Brucker, chairman of the ASNE committee on freedom of information, said House passage of the Moss bill was a "first dent in the wall of secrecy that has grown up in the government since World War II."

Passage Possible

Brucker, editor of the Hartford (Conn.) Courant, said he has been informed by Sen. Hennings (D-Mo), Senate sponsor of the bill, that it stands a good chance of early passage in the Senate.

But Brucker read a statement from Hennings which advised the editors that Atty. Gen. Rogers is insisting on an amendment to protect "executive privilege."

The Moss bill would amend a 1789 statute which gives federal agency heads power over the "custody, use and preservation" of government records. In modern times, Moss has charged, this provision has been used increasingly as the basis for withholding information from the public and from congressional committees.

The Moss amendment specifies that the 1789 law "does not authorize withholding information from the public or limiting the availability of records to the public."

Margarine Tops Consumption of Butter First Time

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the first time in history, the per capita consumption of margarine has surpassed that of butter.

The Agriculture Department reported today that consumption of butter last year averaged 8.5 pounds while that of margarine averaged 8.6 pounds. In 1956, the butter average was 8.7 compared with 8.2 for its competitor.

This represents a sharp change in the consumption pattern of these two products since 1935. In that year, the per capita use of butter was 17.6 pounds compared with 3 pounds for margarine.

Department officials expect the difference to widen more this year with margarine making further gains.

This shift in consumption is reflected in the marketing of milk. In 1935, for instance, 43.4 per cent of the milk sold by farmers went into the production of butter. Last year only 10.8 per cent was used for butter.

Sales of milk for fluid consumption took 45 per cent of last year's milk supply compared with 33.4 in 1935. On the whole sales for fluid use bring producers better returns than do sales for butter.

Jail Jam Thins Out

PLATTSBURGH (AP) — A traffic jam in the Clinton County jail thinned out today after a crackdown by the State Correction Commission.

Ten prisoners, indicted by the grand jury and awaiting trial, were transferred yesterday to the Franklin County jail at Malone as a safety measure.

Emmett Ducatte, sheriff of Clinton County, said the Correction Commission had ordered the prisoners moved after hearing that 36 prisoners were lodged in the jail, designed to hold 23.

Dist. Atty. Thomas R. North called the move "essential and absolutely necessary." He said "the prsent situation, where prisoners are sleeping on cots in corridors and bullpen, is unsafe and creates the danger of riot, as well as being a health hazard and a clear public danger."

The Clinton County jail has been condemned in annual state inspections for the past 20 years.

Envoy, Gromyko Meet

MOSCOW (AP)—U. S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson was summoned to the Foreign Ministry this afternoon, apparently for the first diplomatic discussion preparatory to a summit conference.

Thompson met for 35 minutes with Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko. As he left he smiled and told correspondents:

"I can't comment on anything."

It appeared certain, however, however, the meeting resulted from the note the three Western powers sent the Soviet government yesterday offering to begin pre-summit diplomatic exchanges today.

There was no indication immediately that the British and French ambassadors had been summoned for similar talks.

BPW Authorizes Closing of Street During Line Work

Closing of North Street pending installation of facilities to be used in the operation of the Hudson Cement Corp., was authorized by the Board of Public Works yesterday.

Water and sewer lines and a conduit are to be installed, and the street will be closed for such time as will be required to install them in the street area.

The water line will be installed for use of Hudson river water by the plant, and the conduit will connect with dock facilities.

May Take Week

It was indicated that no more than several days, or possibly a week would be required for the installations as they will affect North Street.

Bids on crushed stone and road mixes were received. The Callanan Road Improvement Co., bid $6.85 a ton on hot mix and $6.95 on cold mix, and Burton VanKleeck bid $6.95 on cold mix. The Callanan bid on two types of crushed stone was $2.20. Two other types were bid at $2 and $2.05, and screenings were bid at $1.30.

The Hurley Sand and Gravel Co., bid four types at $2.20, with screening at $1.50.

The board had specified in advertising for bids that all must meet New York State specifications.

The Lansdell Co., Inc., bid 19 cents a gallon on four types of bituminous road materials. One was bid at 21½ cents, and another at 25 cents.

Board Accepts Figures

The board accepted for forwarding to the Common Council and corporation counsel figures on special assessment estimates for storm and sanitary sewer work in Sharon Lane and Westbrook Place. Total estimated cost is $16,564.36, of which the city pays 25 per cent and the property holders 75 per cent.

Two new street lights were approved for Tammany Street, one for Kingston Terrace, and one for West Pierpont Street. Street light changes for Valentine Avenue were approved.

Permanent civil service status was approved for Kenneth DuBois, of 19 Hayes Street, who had held the position of working foreman on a provisional basis.

On recommendation of City Engineer Arthur F. Hallinan, the board voted to pay $4,564.50 to contractor Joseph Gruner, of Highland, for work on the Delaware Avenue retaining wall. Of the total due him, $805.50, was withheld for later payment.

No Single Cause Given for Series Of B47 Crashes

OMAHA (AP) — A Strategic Air Command spokesman said last night that no pattern has yet emerged indicating any single cause for a recent series of B-47 medium bomber crashes.

Capt. James Brady of the public information office said SAC is prohibited from giving out cumulative figures on the number of recent crashes, the most recent two of which killed eight airmen this week.

Capt. Brady said investigations of the recent series of crashes are not complete and therefore no corrections have been recommended and "we see no reason to ground the B-47 now."

He added that when investigations do show certain corrections are needed recommendations are passed on to all pilots, but often the information is restricted to the pilots alone.

Experience has indicated that accidents appear to occur in cycles and when such a cycle is noted there is increased emphasis on flying safety, more rigid inspection and other precautions are taken.

Rec Committee Will Sponsor Opera By The Turnau Players

Woodstock Recreation Committee will sponsor a Turnau Opera Company performance of Hansel and Gretel on Tuesday, July 22, committee chairman Kermit Schwarz announced today.

The committee acted upon a suggestion by Justice of the Peace Joseph S. Forno, an ex-officio member of the committee.

Sally Turnau, manager of the Turnau Opera Company, attended the recent meeting of the Recreation group and outlined financial details for the benefit performance. She said 210 seats are available for public sale and all proceeds above the minimum expenses for the opera company would be turned over to the Recreation Committee.

The committee unanimously adopted the proposal after Miss Turnau briefed them on details. Tickets will be available in the near future, with Mr. Forno in charge of sales.

One of the highlights of the production will be the chorus numbers which will feature 60 youngsters of the township. They will be selected under a formula to be announced later.

Receive Applications

The committee received four applications for the post of arts and crafts instructor for the summer playground. After the applications were read by Janet Greene, she was appointed a committee of one to further check the applications and report at the next meeting at which time a selection will be made.

John Majoros, director of the playground program, announced the appointment of Bob Foster as his assistant this season. Foster, with previous experience in the post, was formerly a caddie at Woodstock Country Club and an outstanding baseball and basketball player. Majoros described Foster as highly competent and said he was pleased to have him on the staff.

The committee also discussed the possibility of a meeting with Sidney G. Lutzin of Albany, director of the State Youth Commission, who has promised to meet with the local group to discuss recreational problems and activities. The date of the meeting will be announced later.

Chairman Schwarz made a strong appeal for public support of the opera benefit and said good public response would insure a tidy sum for the Recreation fund.

Attending the meeting were Schwarz, Janet Greene, Forno, Irving Kalish, James Nancarvis, Marjorie Harder, secretary; John Majoros and Charles J. Tiano.

Little Leaguers To Meet Saturday

Registration for the Woodstock Township Little League will be held on April 19 at 10 a. m. at the Andy Lee Memorial Field. In case of rain the registrations will be held at the Woodstock Town House.

All boys between the ages of 8 and 12 years old who are interested in taking part in the Little League this season must report at this time.

The new boys coming into the league regardless of their age must bring with them a copy of their birthday certificate or hospital record.

It is also necessary that both the boys who played in the league last season and the new boys coming into the league bring their fathers with them on April 19th.

Every boy in the 8 to 12 years old age bracket and residing wthin the league boundaries is given an equal chance to try out for the league. There is no discrimination in giving the boys a chance to try out.

During the spring training each boy will be given the opportunity to bat and field in the position of his choice. These try out periods are conducted in the presence of all the managers who shall observe the ability of each boy.

At the player auction which will be held around the first of May, the manager must bid for the player of his choice but the player will go to the team bidding the highest number of points. Each player purchased is for the duration of his Little League career the property of the team making the purchase, unless subsequently sold or released.

'When We Lose Heart' Is Rev. Wilder's Topic

The Rev. Garnett M. Wilder will preach a sermon titled: "When We Lose Heart" in the Woodstock, Wittenberg and Shady Methodist Churches on Sunday, April 20. This sermon deals with the temptations faced by many of us from time to time to give up the struggle to accomplish those aims we set for ourselves. A closer look at the human scene indicates that there is some encouragement for us. This is especially true in the religious realm, where the difficulties appear to be greater.

Phone Employes Breakfast Is Slated Sunday

REV. EDWARD J. MOFFETT

A missionary priest, once sentenced to death by the Chinese Communists, will be the principal speaker at the third annual Southern District Telephone Communion breakfast on Sunday, April 20 at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

The Rev. Edward J. Moffett, M.M., will speak to telephone employes at the breakfast following the 8 o'clock Mass at St. Philomena's Church, Town of Ulster.

Father Moffett, a native of Newark, N. J., attended schools there and the Immaculate Conception Seminary at Darlington, N. J., before entering the Maryknoll Novitiate in 1943.

He was ordained to the priesthood in June, 1948 and left for missions of South China the same year.

When Communists swept through South China he was stationed in the city of Tanchuk, Kwangsi Province. While on a mission trip to an out-station on July 3, 1950, Father Moffet was arrested by Communist soldiers, the first American missionary to be arrested by the Chinese Reds.

He spent seven months in a Communist prison during which time he was sentenced to be shot and was forced to watch the torture and execution of a friend. His sentence later was changed to "banishment from China forever."

Father Moffett is presently stationed at Maryknoll, Ossining and has written extensively on his experiences in China.

He is also co-author with Richard Reid, editor of the New York Catholic News, of "Three Days to Eternity," the story of a Maryknoll Missioner killed off Sancian Island during World War II.

The breakfast committee is composed of telephone men from various communities in the Hudson River valley.

Senate Approves Loan Fund Bill Fo rTax Projects

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed another on the list of Democratic-sponsored anti-recession bills—a billion dollar federal loan fund for city public works projects.

The measure now goes to the House where key Democrats have introduced similar legislation. The subject is being considered by the House Banking Committee in hearings now under way on unemployment.

Vital Bill: Johnson

The Senate passed the bill last night 60-22 despite Eisenhower administration opposition and after overriding Republican attempts to tone down major provisions.

Forty Democrats and 20 Republicans voted for passage, with four Democrats and 22 Republicans opposed.

Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) called the public works bill "an extremely important measure." He said "more proposals to combat the recession" would be coming along.

However, he said he believed most of the anti-recession bills so far had received non-partisan consideration and urged that this continue.

"There is no partisan credit to be made out of the recession," he said.

The public works bill authorizes a billion dollars of loans running up to 50 years at a 3½ per cent interest rate for a wide variety of public works projects including school and hospital construction as well as such standby works as streets and sewers.

Help to Small Cities

The loans would be available both to cities and states, but sponsors said they expected it would chiefly benefit smaller cities. Many of these are unable to borrow at lower than 3½ per cent, the sponsors said.

Four hundred million dollars would be a revolving fund to be used over and over as loans were repaid. The other 600 million would be available for lending only once.

Republicans sought yesterday to cut the total loan authorization to 500 million dollars, but this amendment by Sen. Bush (R-Conn) was beaten, 52-33.

Poles May Evacuate

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Urgent warnings went out to hundreds of Polish villages today for their people to stand ready for evacuation to escape the country's worst floods of the century.

Thousands of acres, three towns and nearly 100 villages are under water in north and northeast Poland. The Bug, Vistula and Narew rivers still are pouring over their banks.

So far no loss of life has been reported. But anti-flood committees said they feared for hundreds of peasants who defied earlier warnings they should leave their threatened homes.

The several Farne Islands (16 acres in area) off the Northumberland coast of England had only three inhabitants in 1931. Today there are complaints that they are overpopulated.

Board Tackles

Ellsworth is director of school lunch programs.

5. "It would also be my thought that our director of music, our director of physical education, our director of visual aids, and our director of vocational education-adult education would have charge of the work in these special fields in the rural area.

6. "I would strongly urge that the position of our part-time psychologist be made full time psychologist and that this work be coordinated by the director of pupil personnel services." The board approved full-time appointment of Henry Lampl of Kingston.

To Increase Force

7. "In all probability it would be necessary to increase the number of cooks, food service helpers, janitors, secretaries and teachers with the approval of the board of education upon the specific recommendation of these department heads, directors or principals as they would be challenged to investigate their particular problems within their special field.

"Attendance areas—It would be my thought that we should immediately proceed and the superintendent be so authorized to lay out the attendance areas in the rural districts. The question here would be what schools would be placed within each attendance area, what school should be the center and what children should be transferred. Principals should be assigned accordingly." A board committee is at work on attendance problems.

Hopes for October

"Building program—It would be necessary to make a careful study of census figures within this attendance area as indicated in Part B, and ascertain the number of class rooms needed for this attendance area. Subsequently we could be immediately prepared to recommend a building program, possibly as soon as October for the newly consolidated district.

"Rules and regulations — It would be my thought that the general rules and regulations of the board of education, including our rules handbook, administrative handbook, salary regulations and courses of study would be, by resolution of the board, approved as the guiding regulations for the newly consolidated district. There might be some objections to our general plans, for example, a transportation committee of the board would be required and minor changes necessary."

This will be one of the items on an agenda to be discussed at a meeting of trustees of the rural school districts April 24 at the Chambers School. The rural trustees will consider establishment of a rural advisory board to work with the board of education, etc. President Robert Herzog and Dr. Soper will attend the meeting.

Would See Trustees

"Rural advisory committee—I would recommend that the board of education immediately request the rural trustees now in office to come together, possibly at the Chambers School, to recommend to the board the machinery required for establishing and continuing a rural advisory commitee. It would be the purpose of this committee to select a chairman who would meet regularly with the board and receive all information, participate in discussions and coordinate the thinking of the rural advisory committee with the decisions of the board of education.

"Extra office space — In all sincerity space would be needed for the superintendent's office, and I would once again urge the board to consider space outside of our school buildings. We might possibly investigate the O'Reilly-Miller property at the corner of Broadway and Andrew Street.

State Would Help

"State Education Department assistance — The State Education Department, Bureau of School Business Management, has already volunteered to offer assistance in establishing our new district budget, our accounting system for the new district and assistance in the area of transportation. I would urge Mr. Macdonald be authorized to proceed forthwith in the solution to the financial problems." Robert S. Macdonald is assistant superintendent of Kingston schools.

Discussion of a tentative budget was put over to the May meeting at the request of Robert O'Reilly, chairman of the finance committee.

To Serve Out Terms

County Judge Louis G. Bruhn, chairman of the rules committee, read a communication from the legal division of the State Education Department which ruled that a vacancy on the board of education July 1, 1958, should be filled by Mayor Edwin Radel.

The term of Chester Baltz will expire at that time.

The legal division ruling pointed out that all members of the board will serve out their full terms, being replaced by an election in the enlarged city school district as each term expires.

Tuition Fees Approved

The following non-resident tuition fees for 1958-59 were approved: Kindergarten, $123.96; Grades 1-6, $181.77, and Grades 7-12, $207.90. These rates are a little higher than last year.

Architect Albert Millikin of Kingston presented final plans on the remodeling and expansion of the auditorium section of the high school. These plans were approved by the board and will be submitted to Albany for approval. The work will cost approximately half a million dollars.

The board approved an increase in fees for adult education courses from $1 per annum to $2 each semester ($4 per annum).

The course in driver education, now $1, was increased to $5.

Deficit Is $6,000

With these increases the board feels that the adult education program should "come close" to meeting its deficits—now approximately $6,000.

Representatives of the Kingston Civic Association and the Kingston Parent-Teacher Association Council were present at the meeting last night in the KHS library. The meetings of the board, held on the first Thursday of each month, are open to the public.

Mrs. Katherine Abernethy, a sixth grade teacher in the George Washington School, will retire at the end of the school year. Her resignation was accepted with regret by the board.

The following conferences were approved:

1. Three teachers from the English department to attend the New York State English Council in New York City May 9-10.

2. Special teachers of the mentally retarded to attend a conference at Irvington on April 25.

3. One doctor, two nurses, to attend a health conference in Rochester on June 9-10.

4. Mrs. Victor Mahoney, practical nurses' course, New York City, to observe its operation.

Mrs. Barbara Vega was appointed provisional stenographer at a salary of $2,950. She has had six years of stenographic and clerical experience.

The salary of John Resso, a janitor, was set at $3,400.

Mrs. Vincent Connelly, chairman of the auditorium committee, submitted the following requests for use of school facilities:

1. George Washington School auditorium by IBM for a concert to be presented by its IBM Kingston Mixed Chorus May 17.

2. Boy Scouts at George Washington School Saturday, April 19 from 1 to 5 p. m.

Radel Queried by Jury, 'Leaks' Thought Reason

Mayor Edwin F. Radel appeared before the January Grand Jury shortly before noon today after a short conference with District Attorney Howard C. St. John.

The appearance of Mayor Radel apparently was in connection with a grand jury probe into allegations of a "leak" in testimony taken before the Reuter Commission. It was stated that Mayor Radel appeared voluntarily and was not under subpoena.

Allegations of a possible leak from the Reuter Commission report arose last week when City Judge Aaron Klein, counsel for Bruce Clarke and Floyd Krom, two suspended Kingston police officers, withdrew a motion for inspection of the grand jury minutes and announced he was ready for trial.

At that time District Attorney St. John requested an adjournment to give him an opportunity to request information from Gov. Harriman which he said "apparently" had been made available to Judge Klein and which he sought in order to put his office on an "equal footing" with the defense.

On April 10 Judge Klein and his law associate, William P. Curran, were subpoenaed before the January Grand Jury apparently for questioning in regard to "possible leaks" in the Reuter report.

Judge Klein later said he had declined information to the grand jury.

Tompkins Gets His Study Started About Kickbacks

Former Senator Bernard Tompkins, special investigator named to supercede District Attorney Howard C. St. John in a probe of alleged "kickbacks" from road oil companies to county officials, arrived in Kingston late Wednesday afternoon and will remain here the rest of the week.

From his temporary office in the Court House Senator Tompkins said he was conducting preliminary work in preparations to swinging in to full motion as soon as his staff is assembled and permanent quarters have been secured.

Looking for House

Meanwhile he and Mrs. Tompkins are "house hunting." Senator Tompkins said he would take up his residence here for the duration of the probe. At this time he said it was impossible to form any idea as to how long his investigation might continue.

Much of his staff has been assembled and given approval by the attorney general but he said he did not desire to announce the names of his staff until at least one other appointment had been made.

Studies Records

Senator Tompkins said he was now making an examination of what had been done, studying the records and testimony of proceedings before the Reuter Commission.

He was to confer with District Attorney St. John later today in regard to securing copies of the minutes of the January Grand Jury in relation to the kickback probe.

District Attorney St. John said he would move today before Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Schirick for an order authorizing his office to supply Senator Tompkins with the kickback minutes. The January Grand Jury is still in session.

Senator Tompkins said he had no "pre-conceived notions" in regard to the probe and indicated he intended to conduct a careful study of the testimony already taken by both the grand jury and the Reuter Commission.

Has Open Mind

At this time there was no suggestion that the probe would be broadened to include other than charges of kickbacks in Ulster County, he said. However, he said, he started with an open mind and would make a thorough investigation of the entire matter.

Senator Tompkins declined to comment on the recent charges of a "leak" in the Reuter Commission report, saying that he had not been named to probe the charges of irregularities in the Kingston Police Department and considered that matter was "not on my beat." He said his probe was to be only of alleged kickbacks to county officials.

Senator Tompkins said the matter of permanent quarters for his office had not been determined.

He will leave here Monday for his New York offices and will return to Kingston later in the week.

All motions pending in the courts of Ulster and Westchester Counties as well as those in New York City which grew out of the Reuter Commission investigation have been adjourned by consent until Senator Tompkins and his staff can take them over.

Has Reuter Report

Senator Tompkins said a copy of the Reuter report and all records have been turned over to him and will be given "careful study."

He indicated his staff would be completed in a few days when an announcement would be made.

A proposed lease has been sent to the officials of the Old Dutch Church for the former parsonage property on Main Street. However, action has not been completed on closing.

He indicated his office probably would not get under full swing until about May 1.

Nonsense . . .

their time to planning over-all strategy.

Wants Streamline Command

A major objective of the program is to streamline the chain of command to prevent unnecessary delays in military operations. The Army, Navy and Air Force would continue as separate departments, but their individual power would be reduced. And there would be a cut in the number of assistant secretaries in the services.

The legislative proposals stuck fairly closely to the Eisenhower plan, as outlined earlier this month. But some aspects were clarified. For example, the administration bill would give the secretary of defense authority to transfer, abolish or consolidate functions now assigned by law to the various services.

Also, Eisenhower sidestepped—for a year—a clash with Congress over a proposal to give the secretary of defense greater flexibility in handling military funds. He said this phase of his plan would be incorporated in next year's budget.

Denies Blanket Control

Some of the strongest criticism of the Eisenhower plan has come from those who viewed it as a move to give the defense secretary blanket control over military appropriations. Eisenhower yesterday told a news conference he had no such thing in mind.

Vinson, second only to Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) on the House seniority roll, called the President's plan "an open invitation to the concept of the man on horseback."

Vinson said Eisenhower's proposals would undermine Congress' constitutional control over the armed services.

Marines Invade

east and southeast. About a dozen important rebel administrative officers left the capital yesterday but Premier Sjadruddin and his insurgent Cabinet remained there.

The invasion followed a two-hour bombardment of Padang yesterday by a destroyer and four corvettes. They inflicted no damage and did not alarm the residents. Shore batteries which fired 24 rounds back missed their targets also.

Mertine Is Fined $250 for Selling Drink to Spence

Willard Mertine proprietor of the New Paltz Tavern, 46 Main Street, New Paltz, entered a plea of guilty to violation of Section 65 of the Alcoholic Beverage Law, sale of alcoholic beverage to a minor, and was given a 30-day suspended jail sentence and fined $250 in County Court today.

Merine is one of the defendants charged by indictment with sale of intoxicants to Craig Spence last Dec. 6, when Spence was accompanied by the Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool, of Old Dutch Church, to various taverns in the county to show that intoxicants were being served to minors in many places in the county.

Sherwood Davis appeared as counsel for the defendant and said that Mertine has not been aware he was selling to a minor.

The case of John Cravino of Pantony's on the New Paltz, Ohioville Road, New Paltz, another ABC Law violation charge was moved for trial by Sherwood Davis who said he would be ready to select a jury at 2 p. m.

The indictment against Nicholas Mazzioto also of Pantony's charged with violation of the ABC Law was moved over to June due to the illness of Mazzioto.

The two men had been named in a joint indictment and Judge Louis G. Bruhn granted a motion of severance of the Mazzioto case from the Cravino case so that trial against Cravino might now proceed.

Sees Adequate Tolls

CLEVELAND (AP) — E. Reece Harril, chairman of the United States toll committee, says tolls on the St. Lawrence Seaway will be "adequate but not prohibitive."

He added in an interview last night that the tolls would be low enough to attract traffic, but high enough to produce revenue sufficient to pay off the government's investment in the big waterway within a 50-year limit.

Here to address the National Petroleum Assn. today, Harrill said the answer to the question of how much users of the waterway will have to pay will come in about 30 days, when toll rates are announced.

Route 28 . . .

115 million of their share from Washington. Projects must be under contract by Dec. 1 this year.

200 million dollars of extra U. S. grants for the interstate system of superhighways for fiscal 1959. This would have to be matched on the usual 90-10 basis.

Amounts In Addition

These amounts are in addition to 875 million of A-B-C money and two billion of interstate grants apportioned to the states last year for fiscal 1959.

All of the money can be spent at once; the states do not have to wait until the fiscal year begins July 1.

In addition, the bill makes possible these federal apportionments in July, instead of December as would otherwise be the case:

Two and one-half billion dollars of interstate system money for fiscal 1960. Without the law, only $1,600,000,000 would have been available.

900 million dollars of A-B-C funds for fiscal 1960. These would be matched on the usual 50-50 basis.

Ruling Is . . .

Claim No Agreement

City officials contend, however, that no final agreement had been reached, or definite authorization given to the company for use of the building.

The zoning board, last night, granted Alex R. Harrison permission to use a property at 241 Catherine Street for the operation of a neighborhood grocery store with living quarters on the second floor.

Located in a residential district, the property, which was used for other than residential purposes prior to adoption of zoning regulations, is classified as a non-conforming property. It had been formerly used as a warehouse. Several other property owners in the area had no objection to the proposed use.

Labor Calls . . .

bany." He saw it as a tip-off that Harriman would veto the measure.

Harriman's office said Reuther asked the governor to make public his telegram because he had been embarrassed by published reports of remarks he made during a visit with the governor Monday.

At that time, Reuther said he favored anti-rackets legislation but was not familiar with the GOP bill. Some reports said he supported the bill.

Dubinsky called the bill unfair. "The bill's injunction provisions constitute a serious threat to the workers of this state and to their unions. . . . Moreover, its one-sided anti-union bias is underscored by the fact that it places heavy burdens on labor organizations but not on individual employers," Dubinsky's telegram said in part.

2 Sectors Are

ing proposition if small buses were operated over the route.

Many Lack Transportation

Gullian, who has taken an active interest in the proposal, said that there were many aged and retired people in the area, persons with one car in the family who were left throughout the day without means of transportation, and also there were persons who work in Kingston and who find it difficult and expensive to park. A schedule which would permit working people to use the bus in the morning and in the late afternoon, as well as trips for shoppers during the day, would to a great extent relieve the parking problem in Kingston.

When sufficient signatures are attached to the petitions they will be forwarded to the Public Service Commission with a request that the advisability of granting a franchise be considered.

Local, Dutchess Police Seek Man For Check Charge

Local police and Dutchess County authorities seek the arrest of a man who has been passing fraudulent checks in both areas, it was learned today.

Police here received two complaints of bad checks passed at gasoline service stations. In one instance a $25 check was given for a $5 purchase.

The man, known to have used the name Larson, is sought also by both the Poughkeepsie Police Department and the Dutchess County Sheriff's Office.

A woman, who had allegedly passed fraudulent checks here and in Poughkeepsie, was arrested in the latter city several days ago.

Local police were also notified last night that alms boxes at the Holy Cross Church had been rifled. Unknown amounts were taken from two of them, and it was known that a third had contained $6. Locks were taken from two of the boxes.

Police were also notified yesterday that $35 had been taken from a dresser drawer in the Evelyn Conerty apartment, 666 Broadway. It was noted that doors had been tampered with, but that entrance was apparently gained through use of a fire escape and an unlocked kitchen window.

Mrs. Jacob Reuben, proprietor of the Curtain Shop, 95 John Street, reported that $35 had been taken from a pocketbook which she had left in a cabinet at the rear of the store.

Water Rents Due

A water department reminder was issued today noting that quarterly water rents are due. The department's office, city hall, is open until 6 p. m., on Mondays and to 5 p. m., through the rest of the week, except Saturdays, when it is closed.

Baudouin Opens Brussels Fair

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — King Baudouin opened the postwar world's biggest international exposition today and declared: "The aim of this world's fair is to create an atmosphere of understanding and peace."

It was a chill, gray day and a whistling wind made it overcoat weather, but failed to hold down the crowds.

Hundreds poured into the American and Russian pavilions. During the first hours, the crowds appeared to be slightly larger at the beautiful circular American show. But the throngs at the Russian hall were not much smaller.

Chief attraction of the Soviets appeared to be models of their challenging Sputniks. The main interest at the U. S. exhibition was a bevy of beautiful girls—some in brief bathing suits.

"This is a large, lovely pavilion," wrote one, "keep up the good work."

"It is all propaganda," said another.

Both were written in French.

The Americans had no guest book.

Both countries opened with traditional ribbon-cutting ceremonies. The Americans had a message from President Eisenhower, greeting the first guests and applauding the fair. There was none from Nikita Khrushchev, Soviet Premier, or anyone else from the U. S. S. R.

Soviet Ambassador Victor Avilov opened the tall, rectangular Russian show. He made no speech. The Americans had plenty of speech making. Visitors shivered in the cold weather during the oratory.

The Russian exhibit appeared to be completely ready. The American show was not.

Is Injured Fatally

PLATTSBURGH, (AP) — Albert Burdo, 20, of Plattsburgh, was injured fatally today when his automobile skidded into a utility pole and overturned on Route 22 about four miles north of here.

Burdo worked at a paper mill in Plattsburgh.

Along Capitol Corridors

By CHARLES DUMAS

ALBANY (AP) — Will Robert F. Wagner run for the U. S. Senate or won't he? Is he in or out? Up or down?

This was a popular guessing game in 1956 until Wagner supplied the answer. He ran—and lost, to Jacob K. Javits.

The game is being repeated in 1958. Although there's no doubt Wagner wants a Senate seat, you won't hear the answer for several months.

Observers Divided

Veteran political observers are sharply divided. Some say it will be "yes." About as many predict it will be "no."

The situation is this:

Wagner, a big vote-getter as mayor of New York City, is regarded by many Democratic leaders as the party's best bet for the Senate in November.

The seat at stake is the one held by Republican Irving M. Ives, who says he has not decided whether to run again. His health appears to be the deciding factor.

Wagner ran well in 1956, when he consented reluctantly to buck the Eisenhower tide. It was said at the time he was promised another try this year, as a condition to running then.

But, in seeking re-election as mayor last fall, Wagner pledged to serve his full, four-year term. Some influential elements in the city apparently mean to hold him to that pledge.

DeSapio Gives Nudge

Now comes Carmine DeSapio, the boss of the powerful Manhattan Democratic organization known as Tammany Hall, to nudge Wagner toward the Senate nomination. Wagner has been a DeSapio protege.

DeSapio suggested this week that Wagner could be drafted by the party for the Senate race.

He argued that it would be up to the Democratic state convention "to decide whether or not they feel that Mayor Wagner can do a better job in City Hall or a better job in the United States Senate."

DeSapio also pointed out that Wagner made a similar promise—to serve out his term—when he first was elected, in 1953, but that the mayor accepted a Senate draft in 1956.

Message Is Plain

The message seems plain: DeSapio wants Wagner. And what DeSapio wants in the party, DeSapio usually gets.

Wagner won't say he wants to run. But consider these factors:

1. As the son of a famous U. S. senator, Wagner's natural inclination has been to follow in his father's footsteps. He has made that clear.

2. He has had more than his share of troubles in running the giant city. Intimates say he would be glad to move to another public office.

3. With a national recession and a Republican national administration, Democrats figure 1958 is their election year.

4. If he doesn't run now, he will have to wait until 1962, when Javits' term will expire. Who knows how the political barometer will read then?

Apparently the only thing that stands between Wagner and the nomination is the promise he made last fall.

Must he keep it? Will he keep it? Can DeSapio get him off the hook and back onto the campaign trail?

Spring Fever Dangerous

MARQUETTE, Mich. (AP) — The parents of Robert Carlson kept a close watch on the 22-month-old youngster today. Another attack of spring fever could be dangerous.

Robert was fast asleep on Lake Superior & Ishpeming Railroad tracks yesterday when he was spotted by a state police plane. Startled officers radioed a car and Robert was whisked away before any trains came along.

His parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Carlson of suburban Carlshend, said he wandered away from his home about one mile from the tracks.

Tries Santa's Way

DENVER (AP)—His parents told him that's the way Santa Claus entered, and besides, how else is a fella going to get his toys from a locked house?

That was 5-year-old Sparky Moore's reasoning yesterday when he went to retrieve his toys from a neighbor's home.

Halfway down the 7-by-15 inch chimney, Sparky got stuck. His wails attracted a passing saleswoman who climbed the roof and calmed him. Sparky's mother also arrived. Together, she and the saleswoman rescued the youngster with a garden hose.

French-Tunisian Dispute Likely Before UN Again

TUNIS (AP) — President Habib Bourguiba today gave France a week to get a government which will accept the compromise on the French-Tunisian dispute worked out by the U. S.-British good offices mission.

Otherwise, Bourguiba said, he will charge France again with aggression before the U. N. Security Council.

Praises U.S. Policies

Speaking on his weekly broadcast to his people, the Tunisian President coupled his ultimatum to the French with lavish praise for U. S. policies. He urged all the free peoples of Africa to stand firm with the United States against communism.

Bourguiba first accused the French before the council after the bombing Feb. 8 of a Tunisian border village which the French claimed harbored Algerian rebels. A council debate embarrassing to the West was averted by the naming of a U. S.-British good offices mission to bring the two nations together.

The good offices effort failed Tuesday night when the French National Assembly rejected the mission's compromise plan to get negotiations between France and Tunisia going. The government of Premier Felix Gaillard resigned.

New Rule Unlikely

With little or no chance of a government being formed in Paris to meet Bourguiba's deadline, it appeared certain the French-Tunisian dispute would go back to the council. With it almost certainly will go a Tunisian demand—which the Russians will back to the hilt—that the council also take up the Algerian rebellion as the root of the trouble between France and Tunisia.

Dispute Between State, Indians In Third Round

NIAGARA FALLS (AP) — Round three in a land dispute between the Tuscarora Indian Nation and the State of New York is expected to develop today.

The state, specifically the State Power Authority, lost the opening two rounds yesterday when its surveying parties discreetly retired from a field dominated by menacing rings of young braves.

The land in contest has been appropriated by the power authority for incorporation in the $600,000,000 Niagara power project, now underway.

Warns of Arrests

The authority, backed by the mobilized deputies of the Niagara County sheriff, said it would return to the scene today.

"If the Indians make trouble we'll have to arrest them," Sheriff James K. Murphy declared last night.

Chief Elton Greene of the Tuscaroras called for peaceful settlement throughout but promised "we will fight encroachment to the end. I hope there will be no violence."

The surveyors got in about three hours of work in the morning. When they left, the Indians pulled up all the stakes the party had set.

Menacing Cavalcade

It was they, led by Mad Bear Anderson, who converged upon the survey site in a menacing cavalcade of 22 automobiles forcing the withdrawal.

Anderson, a frequent dissenter at the councils of the Tuscarora Nation, vowed he would throw the surveyors out if need be.

The authority Monday appropriated 1,383 acres of the reservation, about a fifth of the territory. It wants it as part of a planned storage reservoir in connection with the power project.

The Tuscaroras have refused an offer of $120,000 for the land. There are about 700 Indians on the reservation.

In great discomfort were the surveyors themselves. They are employed by a private engineering firm, Uhl Hall & Rich of Boston, Mass.

Performers Company

NEW YORK (AP)—A group of performers in a Broadway musical have formed a company to experiment in theatrical enterprise during their spare time. The company, headed by Abbe Lane and Edward Platt of "Oh Captain!" are rehearsing Saroyan's "Time of Your Life" and expect to showcase one modern or classic revival a month.

Catholic Charities Report Indicates Counselling Need

The troubled family of today needs skilled counselling help to keep the home intact and prevent the placement of children, New York Catholic Charities finds in the annual report of its Family Service Department, made public today by the Rev. James T. McDonnell, and the Rev. Robert A. Ford, co-directors.

The organization expended nearly half of its funds, or $1,696,303, on family care alone in 1957. It assisted 30,093 families involving 90,288 individuals whose problems ranged from marital and moral conflicts, physical and mental illness, economic hardship, difficult-to-manage children to alcoholism and care of aging relatives.

Important Factor

"Since the family relationship is most important in man's growth," the report points out, "Family Service has as its purpose the preservation and strengthening of family life, building up whatever is healthy in the family and remedying whatever is destructive."

The service operates through a central office at 122 East 22nd Street, and district offices in the Bronx, East Harlem, Washington Heights, Richmond and the seven counties of the New York Archdiocese.

Noted in the report was counselling and guidance provided for 1,150 unmarried mothers in cooperation with three Catholic shelters; homemaker service which preserved the homes of 1,017 children temporarily disrupted by illness; counselling services for 1,015 seriously disorganized families in family and home term courts; assistance to 4,064 families by the St. Vincent's de Paul Society which also provided free camp care for 1,704 boys and girls.

Problems of Aged

In the area of special need attention was called to problems of the aging.

In another special area, job placement, the report notes a great increase in the demand for both vocational testing and employment by the Archdiocese Vocational Service. During 1957 this agency served a total of 9,616 individuals. The service has been approved by the American Board for Psychological Services and the American Personnel and Guidance Association.

The Holy Name Center, a sanctuary for drifting, aimless men of the Bowery provided for the physical needs of 5,449 men and also offered them counselling, spiritual guidance, recreation and help in seeking employment.

International Fire

SUPERIOR, Wis. (AP) — Authorities in Wisconsin had to call officials in Minnesota to get permission to extinguish a truck fire. The vehicle developed an overheated tire and caught fire south of here. The truck, loaded with aluminum scrap, was sealed because it was on an international freight trip from Canada. So Sheriff Louis Bannick telephoned the customs office in nearby Duluth, Minn., to get permission to break the seal and fight the fire inside the truck.

Sprinkle the insides of tea and coffee cups with a little mild powdered cleanser and rub gently to remove any brown spots.

Summit Talk May Clear Air of Some Problems

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Any summit meeting between President Eisenhower and Premier Khrushchev could at best have only very limited results, perhaps no more than a slight easing of tensions.

The best possible result would be an agreement on disarmament: the abolition of nuclear weapons. This would free the world of the fear of annihilation. But that appears to be out of the question for the foreseeable future.

Dulles, Acheson Cold

Therefore, any agreement reached at the summit would be something less than the idea. But does that make such a meeting undesirable? Secretary of State Dulles and former secretary of state Acheson are cold to a summit get-together.

Acheson even opposes the thought of a president taking part in such a meeting. To support his position he cites President Wilson's disappointments after World War I and the flimsy results of Eisenhower's summit meeting in Geneva in 1955.

In the past the meeting of the heads of government have been surrounded with such pomp, ceremony and importance that the world was filled with great expectations and therefore great disillusionments when the ideals were not attained.

Frequent Meetings

Because of that, perhaps, and because of the traditional stuffed-shirt positions of governments such meetings were seldom held. But with the passing years the world has been narrowed down by the speed of transportation and communications.

In the future it may be desirable, and more sensible, to have the heads of state meet rather frequently, not in the hope of settling all the problems or even a few of the biggest ones but only just some.

Such head-to-head meeting at the top might be able to clear away in short order problems which otherwise would take years of negotiation between foreign ministers or ambassadors or letter-writing between presidents and premiers.

Thinking in Past

Acheson and Dulles seem to be thinking in the past, with their misgivings about a summit conference. Eisenhower appears more contemporary than they do, and more conscious of the changing nature of the world.

He has repeatedly expressed a willingness to meet with the Russians if he believes it will do some good.

True, there are pitfalls to such a meeting. The Russians might try to use it, not for legitimate efforts to settle anything, but to make propaganda for themselves.

But Eisenhower and his advisers should be able to take care of themselves. To think otherwise is to assume the Russians are smarter.

If fear of Russian tricks continues to grow in this country, the result may be to make American thinking, from the highest to the lowest levels, self-conscious, defensive and even backward.

FORBIDDEN AREA—Shaded area in Newsmap, above, shows the 390,000-square-mile region in the Pacific which the Atomic Energy Commission has declared off limits during the forthcoming nuclear weapons tests. Called "Hardtack," the tests will begin this month at Eniwetok Proving Ground in the Marshall Islands. The AEC recently issued regulations barring U.S. citizens from the area—aimed specifically at members of a pacifist group who plan to sail a 30-foot ketch, "The Golden Rule," into the atomic zone as a protest against the tests.

Looks Like Kremlin Fears National Panic

Reports on Own Fallout Likely Reason for Halt in Nuclear Tests

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

The Soviet leadership seems to be exhibiting anxiety over the extent of radioactive fallout within U.S.S.R. territory.

Reports of heavy fallout concentration appear to have seeped through to the Soviet public, and possibly the Kremlin feels resultant popular alarm might burgeon into panic. The Russians thus may have felt themselves forced to call off their nuclear weapons tests.

Fear News Spread

A study of recent Soviet press statements concerning radioactivity indicates support for a recent report from Denmark that some sort of catastrophic accident had caused heavy fallout over the Soviet Union. This report, noting that the Russians recently barred foreign travelers from certain sections of the U.S.S.R., speculated that the Russians wanted to prevent news of an atomic accident from getting out and spreading popular anxiety.

However, an accident may not have been responsible. The Russians completed a series of nuclear weapon tests just in advance of their announcement of an intention to suspend testing. Since they scoffed at the idea of a "clean" nuclear bomb with little fallout, it seems unlikely they expended much effort in producing one, and thus it is likely they tested dirty weapons with heavy fallout.

Could Be Coverup

Russian Communists habitually try to make the best of a disadvantageous situation. Forced to give a nervous public at least a promise that tests on Soviet soil would cease, the Kremlin may have decided to take propaganda advantage of a move which could not be avoided. Thus, it challenged the United States to follow its example and announce a halt to all testing of nuclear weapons.

Some of the speeches before the Supreme Soviet (Parliament) on the day the announcement was made seemed to carry a note of extreme urgency. In one, the U.S.S.R.'s top atomic scientist, Igor V. Kurchatov, said:

"I must inform the Supreme Soviet that the testing of atomic and hydrogen weapons, besides keeping the world in a state of alarm over the possibility of a future atomic war, will bring an ever-increasing degree of harm to the people's health."

No Explanation

Kurchatov did not bother to qualify this statement to fix the responsibility on the Americans. His reference to the people could well have meant the Soviet people in particular.

But even more revealing was a speech by writer L. M. Leonov. As quoted by Pravda, Leonov said:

"Death can come today in the form of a pleasant light rain or a fresh breeze. . .if it is terrible even for half-deserted territory with sparse population, then how must it threaten Europe with a population density almost up to the limit?"

The Russians have been testing nuclear weapons in sparsely populated, half-deserted territory, probably somewhere in Siberia. Such tests require a fairly large labor force, even if only to transport the huge amounts of equipment necessary. The tests could have resulted in heavy fallout over a radius of several hundred miles. Losses among the labor force—even if it were slave labor — could have been alarming.

Approves Sale to State

TROY (AP)—The Rensselaer County Board of Supervisors last night approved the sale of the Pawling Sanatorium, a former tuberculosis hospital, to New York State for $50,000.

The State Social Welfare Departments plans to convert the 74-acre site and eight buildings, in suburban Wynantskill, into an auxiliary training school for delinquent girls.

Cold Cost Tie Vote

LYNDHURST, N. J. (AP) — Guy Pezzolla was sick the day of the New Jersey primary. He doesn't feel too well today, either.

Mrs. Pezzolla was in the race for Republican committeewoman from the second district, but a heavy cold kept her husband from the polls.

Mrs. Pezzolla lost—by one vote.

Ave Vetoes Bill Giving Teachers Right to Punish

By CHARLES DUMAS

ALBANY (AP) — Should teachers be allowed to decide for themselves whether to use corporal punishment in the classroom?

Gov. Harriman and the State Education Department say "no." They feel this is a policy matter for school boards.

'Free Hand' Out

Therefore, Harriman yesterday vetoed a bill that would have given every teacher in the state a free hand to use "reasonable force in moderate degree" on balky pupils.

State law now permits individual school districts to decide whether to allow corporal punishment. The bill would have barred them from making any rule to prevent teachers from cracking down on the wayward.

However, he quoted the Education Department as saying people were so sharply divided on the issue of corporal punishment that the matter should be left to local boards. The department memo said:

"One only has to read the numerous letters from irate parents received in this department to realize the degree of heat generated in discussions on this subject."

Assemblyman Joseph R. Corso, Brooklyn Democrat, sponsored the bill.

The measure was among dozens that came before the governor yesterday. Harriman's office today announced that he had signed 15 more bills and vetoed 11.

Among the 15 he signed was a bill that will require husbands to provide for support of mentally ill wives when a marriage is dissolved because of insanity. The court that dissolves the marriage will fix the amount.

1. Signed a streamlined version of the state's civil service law that ultimately could remove thousands of state jobs from the patronage rolls.

2. Vetoed a measure under which drug addicts could have been sentenced to a year in jail.

Rejects ABC Bill

3. Rejected a bill that would have allowed bartenders charged with serving liquor to minors the defense that the purchaser appeared to be over 18 years old.

4. Rejected a bill that proposed to raise from 50 to 60 miles an hour the maximum speed limit on controlled-access highways divided by a mall at least 20 feet wide.

More than 10,000 state jobs are in the so-called exempt category, which means they may be filled without competitive examinations. Such posts often become political patronage.

The State Civil Service Commission now will be permitted to make temporary appointments to exempt jobs pending a study of whether the post should be switched to the competitive class. If the change were made, the appointee would have to take an examination to keep the job.

Woman's Club Meets

It was reported that the trustees of the new library association would meet soon, and a request was made for assistance in transporting 2,000 books which were obtained from the Kingston library, to the local library building. The Woman's Club will purchase furniture for the library, and a fund raising committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. Richard Weir will make plans for a spring dance as the first project.

Kenneth Hasbrouck, lecturer, will be guest speaker at the Tri-County luncheon to be held at Williams Lake Friday, April 25. He will discuss "Early Ulster County." Delegates to the affair from the local club are Mrs. Vernon Freese, Mrs. Albert Trandle and Mrs. Gene Van Winkle. Reservations must be made by April 20.

Following the business session, refreshments were served by hostesses Mrs. James Fahey, Mrs. Edward Huben and Mrs. V. Bobri. Twenty-five members were present.

Upstate Marine Is Killed in Crash

The Pensacola Naval Air Station identified the Marine officers as Donald D. Weaver of Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Laurens B. Vanderhoop, 27, of Detroit.

Two Onondaga Judges

ALBANY (AP)—Onondaga County will have a second county judge next year.

Incredible March

First Europeans to see what now is the state of New Mexico were Alvar Nunez Cabeza de Vaca, a Spaniard, and his three companions. They were shipwrecked off the Louisiana coast in 1528 and made an incredible eight-year march across Texas and southern New Mexico.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—"You can make anybody laugh within a minute," said comedian Sid Gould. "The only thing that prevents them from laughing is the determination to win some money."

That's the simple idea behind "Make Me Laugh" (ABC - TV, Thursday, 10 p. m.), which was the target of some unkind remarks from this quarter when it made its debut four weeks ago.

Minute Enough—Nye

"I agree with Sid," said comedian Louis Nye. "A minute is enough time to make a person laugh."

"I don't believe it," I said. That's why I challenged you guys to come down to the bullpen and give you each a minute to make me laugh."

They stared thoughtfully. Gould has sad dark eyes and a mobile face. Nye has bright blue eyes and a deadpan expression.

"You're easy," Gould said. "We've been talking about five minutes and you've laughed five times."

"I have not."

"You have too," Nye said. "It was a sort of grin, but you won't print that because it'll make you sound like a grinning fool."

"A laugh is any time you show your teeth," said Gould.

"Mmm-mmm," I replied through tight lips. "Go ahead."

"No rush," said Gould. "Why don't you ask us some questions first, like is it easier to make men or women laugh?"

"Okay." I slumped lower in my chair, "which is easier?"

"They're both the same," said Gould.

"Both the same," echoed Nye.

"Want to begin?" asked Nye.

"Go ahead."

Leaping to his feet, he sprang to my side, rested a hand on my shoulder, faced an imaginary audience, and began a staccato German speech. My imagination riot-ed. He was the Nazi functionary and I the lolling, weary dictator.

I laughed.

"I told you," said Gould. "You are easy."

"Maybe for him. Not for you. Go ahead."

His face seemed to squash like foam rubber, his eyes expressed an extraordinary sadness, and he lipsed about an imaginary Roy Smick. I wanted to laugh, but I didn't.

Expression Changes

I laughed.

"Look here," I said in some alarm, "that's not a funny line. Reduce that to print and say that I laughed at it and I'll sound like a terrible idiot."

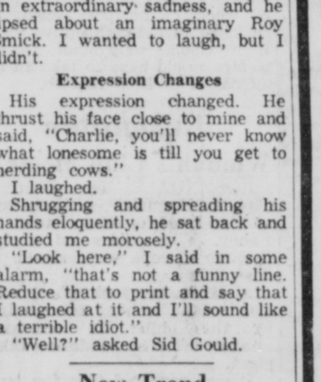

"Well?" asked Sid Gould.

New Trend

NEW YORK (AP) — Standing room theater parties are the latest Broadway ticket trend. The boxoffice of the smash hit "The Music Man" reports several organizations, unable to buy seats for the show, purchased standee space instead. Fire regulations limit stand-up patrons to 40 per performance, so one club bought the space for two evenings to take care of 80 members.

Oil for the Press

MIAMI, Okla. (AP)—The Miami City Commission got a complaint from a reporter covering a session that he couldn't hear the proceedings because the commissioners' chair squeaked so loud. Commissioners obliged when the reporter formally requested the chairs be oiled.

Opening lead—♠ 4

The game was duplicate and the final three no-trump contract fairly reasonable. A spade was opened at all tables and South held off until the third lead.

Most South players simply ran five diamonds and hoped against hope that East would let go of a spade. Needless to say, no one obliged and South had to lose five tricks.

One South player got a better idea. He knew that this particular East was a greedy player and would not settle for a one-trick set when he might do better. So South cashed the ace and king of diamonds and shifted to the queen of hearts.

The idea was that East might play him for two diamonds only and hold off that heart lead.

Unfortunately for his scheme, East went right up with the ace and settled for the one-trick set. You see, East knew that South held another diamond.

How did East know? East and West were using the defensive echo to show an even number of cards in a suit. With four diamonds, West would have played high low on the two diamond leads. As it was, his first diamond play was the deuce and his second the five. This showed three diamonds so East had no problem.

MISS RHEINGOLD OF 1958, Madelyn Darrow, will be a special guest of the Ulster County Hotel and Restaurant Liquor Dealers Association, Inc. at their annual banquet scheduled Tuesday, April 22, at The Barn, it was announced today by Michael Greco, chairman.

Management Club To Tour Western Printing Plant

Approximately 40 members of the Kingston Industrial Management Club will tour Western Printing and Lithographing Company, North Road, Poughkeepsie, tonight. The plant tour will follow a club dinner at the Casablanca, 602 Broadway, at 6:30 o'clock.

Now celebrating its 50th year in business, Western Printing has had a Poughkeepsie plant since 1934. Employing approximately 1,150 people, the local plant is the largest creator and producer of children's books in the world.

The plant produces approximately 300 million comic books and magazines per year and produces no less than a million copies every working day.

Club officers are: Marvin I. Millens, president; George R. Sheldon, first vice-president; William L. Buchbinder, second vice-president; John H. Strittar, corresponding secretary; Sam Carroll, recording secretary; Frederick J. Scott, treasurer; Victor E. Fletcher and Clair S. Sheaffer, directors; and Louis H. Schafer, executive director.

Kingston YMCA Is Rotary Topic

Louis H. Schafer, general secretary of the Kingston YMCA, summarized the program and activities for youth at the local Y before the Kingston Rotary Club Wednesday at its weekly-luncheon meeting.

Mr. Schafer has been engaged in YMCA work for 37 years, 15 of which have been spent in Kingston.

The general secretary noted greater interest upon the part of parents in the work of the local institution in recent years. There has been increased parent participation in certain functions with as many as 150 in attendance, he stated.

The program of the physical and athletic departments and the activities of the Youth Center, YMCA Day Camp, Hi-Y Clubs and leadership training classes were described by the speaker.

Governor and General

After Lewis and Clark returned from their expedition, the former was appointed governor of the Louisiana Territory, and the latter became a brigadier general in the Louisiana militia and superintendent of Indian affairs at St. Louis.

Matter of FACT

Only one person, Madam Marie Curie, ever has received the Nobel award in more than one field. In 1903, she received the Nobel prize in physics and in 1911 she earned the award in chemistry. The Nobel prizes, established in 1901 from a fund of $9,000,000 left by the Swedish explosives inventor Alfred Nobel, are given annually for outstanding contributions in physics, chemistry, medicine or physiology, literature and the advancement of world peace.

Scientists Disagree on Effects Of Fallout on Future Generation

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

NEW YORK (AP)—Fallout is presumably dooming some of tomorrow's children to disease or death.

Very Little Known

Scientists disagree on the extent of this risk because so little is known about the effects of radiation on human heredity. They have to guess from studies of fruit flies, plants and small animals, which don't take 20 years to produce one generation.

One expert guess is that natural radioactivity is causing about 10 per cent of all changes in human genes, the carriers of hereditary traits.

What They Think

Some scientists say the addition is practically imperceptible. Others say that, in time, fallout means hundreds of thousands of infants will be lost in miscarriages or be doomed to sickly, feeble, or shortened lives.

No one can prove he is right. Continuing and intensified studies of radiation will produce the facts.

Atomic Energy Commission experts say the added risk of genetic damage from fallout is not as great as the added risk of moving from a wood house to a brick or stone house. Reason: The brick or stone house exposes you to increased natural radioactivity, an increase greater than average exposure from fallout.

Cites Radium Watches

One AEC scientist calculates the average radium-dial wrist watch exposes the wearer's sex glands to about twice the radiation he gets from natural sources. X-rays from the watch hit the glands when his arm is at his side.

Other scientists think the AEC is estimating the effects of fallout far too low. And they say fallout is not evenly distributed, so some persons are getting a heavier dose than average.

Fear Cancers

Some also argue that radioactive strontium-90, which accumulates in bones, will cause thousands of cases of leukemia and bone cancer.

AEC spokesmen say there's no proof for this. They report the amount of strontium found in children's bones so far is about one one-hundredth the amount considered a very safe dose.

Point to Moral Issues

Many argue a moral issue.

You don't have to wear a wrist watch, they point out. But you can't avoid fallout drifting down upon you from somebody testing bombs.

Meanwhile what's the chance that your next baby — or your grandchild — will be harmed by fallout radiation?

The genetic harm coming from fallout—if it is coming and in whatever degree — won't really show up until future generations.

It may always be too small to be noticed or pinpointed.

But it may be there.

$300 Million First Tax Installment Paid

NEW YORK (AP)—A payment of 300 million dollars by a corporation as the first installment of its federal income tax is this year's largest payment in the lower Manhattan district. The district is the wealthiest in the country in terms of corporate taxes.

CREAMY EGG-'N-CHEESE PEPPERS

Halve 6 medium-size green peppers and remove seeds. Parboil 10 minutes in well-salted boiling water. Drain, then place in greased baking dish. Combine 1 cup thick sour cream, ½ cup grated process cheese, ½ cup chopped celery, 2 tsp. Sterling Salt, 6 hard-cooked eggs (chopped), 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce. Spoon into pepper halves. Sprinkle tops with bread crumbs. Bake in 375° oven 25 minutes. 6 servings.

Any dish has extra zest, extra flavor richness when cooked and seasoned with Sterling Salt!

Invasion

CHICAGO (AP) — The largest YMCA in the world, in Chicago, notes on its 100th birthday that it is thoroughly infiltrated by women. Founded to improve the "spiritual, intellectual and social conditions of young men," the Young Men's Christian Assn. of Metropolitan Chicago has 22,000 women members among its total of 119,000. During the Civil War, with so many members in the Army, the association sought to strengthen itself by admitting women as auxiliary members.

John Barry was the first captain in the U. S. Navy, being appointed by President Washington in 1794 under the Constitution.

CHILDREN'S HOME BENEFIT—The entire proceeds from the 29th annual Ulster County Shrine Club stage show and dance to be held at the Municipal Auditorium on Monday evening, April 28, will go to the Children's Home on East Chester Street. Down through the years, the Shrine Club has received generous support for this worthwhile local project. A large attendance is anticipated for this benefit.

In addition to supporting this worthy cause, patrons will be treated to five first class stage acts direct from the New York City theatrical circuit and dancing to Harry Maisenhelder's Orchestra.

Hurley Sets Hearing On 3 Subdivisions

A public hearing before the planning board of Hurley on three subdivisions in the Town of Hurley will be held at the firehouse in Old Hurley April 29, at 7:30 p. m., under provisions of the Town Law.

The hearing will be on the subdivision applications of Glenford Acres, operated by Oscar Johnson and Peter Weider; Elmendorf's Section 3-B, operated by Ray Elmendorf and Garden Terrace, operated by Robert Stickles. William Schiff is chairman of the Town of Hurley Planning Board and H. Van Wyck Darrow, secretary.

Early Game

Earliest dwellers in New Mexico, nomads who lived there from 10,000 to 15,000 years ago, hunted such animals as the giant ground sloth, musk ox, three-toed horse, camel, four-pronged antelope and mammoth.

Air Force Backs Defense Change

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Air Force last night endorsed President Eisenhower's defense reorganization plan. It was the first service to do so.

Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff, told the St. Louis chapter of the American Ordnance Assn. that the Air Force was "wholeheartedly in accord with the President's proposal."

Sees Great Benefit

He said it "will be of great benefit to the security of our country," in that it will "ally technical progress and efficient use of modern weapons to a modern, efficient military organization structure."

The chiefs of the two other armed forces, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor of the Army, and Adm. Arleigh Burke of the Navy, have remained silent on the President's demand for concentration of more power in the secretary of defense and Joint Chiefs of Staff.

White said he thought the nation's defense will "profit through more efficient utilization of the manpower, skills, talent and experience now available to all these services."

He said the Air Force was the natural operator of space weapons and vehicles. "Space is but a continuation of the Air Force's natural element."

SPA Awards Contract

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York State Power Authority announced yesterday the award of a $1,000,120 contract to the Brown Boveri Corp., New York, for furnishing four power transformers for the Tuscarora power plant of the Niagara power project.

The transformers will be three-phase units, each of 100,000 kilovolt-ampere capacity.

Brown Boveri's bid was the lowest of six received by the authority. The bid also provided for certain spare parts.

The Persian Gulf is less salty than other seas, because fresh waters from Iraq's Tigris and Euphrates Rivers pour into the gulf and its juncture with the Gulf of Iman, arm of the Indian Ocean, is so narrow and crooked that little salt water enters.

Mrs. Russell Robbins Is Elected President Again of AAUW Here

Election of officers and an address on education and the status of women in India under the British regime highlighted Monday night's meeting of the Kingston branch, American Association of University Women.

Re-elected were Mrs. Russell Hope Robbins, president; Mrs. William E. Powers Jr., first vice-president; Mrs. John J. Erickson, second vice-president; Mrs. Alexander T. Chepeleff, recording secretary; Mrs. Henry F. Kwasnowski, corresponding secretary and Mrs. John McCullough, treasurer.

Speaker was Mrs. John J. DeBoer, an AAUW member who lived in India from 1922 to 1942; her husband served as principal of Voorages College, a two-year mission institute associated with Madras University and offering a liberal arts curriculum. She noted that those who passed rigorous government examinations and thus received bachelor of arts degrees usually went to the larger cities, where lucrative positions were available, and rarely returned to their villages to aid in education there. The speaker commented that the major problem was the need for a basic education which would be adaptable to the needs of all the people, not just the intellectual elite.

Mrs. DeBoer described her contacts with women from various Indian castes; she noted that the educated, professional women were quick to support Mahatma Gandhi and were thus immediately accepted as political equals, receiving the franchise as soon as independence was declared.

Miss Isabelle Malone, chairman of the group's scholarship committee, named Mrs. Burton W. Schwab, Mrs. Ida Sherman and Miss Gladys Nickerson to assist her in selecting the recipient of the branch's annual award, given to a Kingston High School senior girl. The group will review letters of application, citizenship and scholarship records before announcing this year's winner at the June 10 meeting.

Members of the local branch will participate in the AAUW regional conference, to be held in Peekskill May 1. Reservations may be made and transportation arranged with Mrs. Henry Kwasnowski; deadline for reservations is April 22.

The branch will sponsor a Book Fair in conjunction with the Ulster County Fair Aug. 20-21; the event will benefit the AAUW fellowship fund.

Books to be donated may be turned in at the YWCA or at the home of Mrs. Rex DePew, 156 Downs Street.

Mrs. John J. Erickson, membership chairman, announced that an orientation meeting for new and prospective members will be held May 7 at the home of Mrs. Harold Barton, Brookside Acres, Woodstock. Mrs. Alexander Milyko, state membership chairman, will discuss AAUW aims and programs.

A new study group on mental retardation will be formed under the branch's Social and Economic Committee. Those interested in participating may contact Mrs. Arnold Pinsly, chairman.

Mrs. Bernhardt S. Kramer was chairman of hostesses for Monday's meeting, assisted by Miss Mildred Kirshenblum, Miss Elma Kullman, Mrs. Albert Kurdt and Mrs. Kwasnowski.

TO DANCE AT NEW PALTZ—Ram Gopal, noted Indian dancer, will be the featured entertainer at the Ulster County Teachers Association Spring Conference which will be held at the State University Teachers College, New Paltz, Friday, April 18. The program will start at 2:30 p. m. in the College Auditorium. According to Dr. William J. Haggerty, president of the College, more than 500 teachers from Ulster County are expected to attend the conference. The theme of the meeting will be "The Importance of Asia," and Mrs. Mary Cawston of Kingston, president of the Association, will preside.

Name Program Head Of Democratic Group

Mrs. Irma Coty of Napanoch, secretary of the Democratic Committee of the Town of Wawarsing, has been named Ulster County program committee director for the Democratic State Committee Women's Division. This was announced by acting State Democratic vice chairman Eleanor Clark French, who made the appointment on the recommendations of William A. Kelly, Ulster County Democratic Chairman, and Mrs. Harriet Allen Kerr, Democratic State Committeewoman.

"The program committee, which is composed of one program director for each of the 62 counties of the State, will as its first order of business, select the key issues of interest to women and help to translate them into Democratic action programs in communities across the State," Mrs. French said.

As program director, Mrs. Coty will serve as the link between the State Women's Division and Democratic groups in the county in developing programs of interest to women, upon the request of these local groups.

As program director, Mrs. Coty is serving as chairman of the program committee for Ulster County's Fifth Annual Day of Political Education, to be held Saturday, May 10 at the Governor Clinton Hotel in Kingston.

Mrs. Coty, who was a member of the Democratic Steering Committee of the Town of Wawarsing for four years, has been a leading member of civic organizations in her community for many years.

Offices she has held include commissioner of the Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts, district and county secretary and treasurer of the American Legion Auxiliary; president of the Veterans' Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, and president of the Shawangunk Garden Club.

Mrs. Coty, who was born in Leominster, Mass., has been a resident of Ulster County since 1932. For the past 15 years she has been employed as account clerk at the Institute for Male Defective Delinquents at Napanoch.

Trade Savvy Aids Tigers; Podres Squares SF Series

Bolling, Martin Spark Detroit In Two Starters

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

The Detroit Tigers, long frustrated in American League pennant races by stumbling starts, had the makings of a souped-up getaway today—thanks to one trade they made and another that they didn't make.

It was Frank Bolling, the second baseman Cleveland wanted but didn't get over the winter, who wrapped up a 5-4 victory over the Chicago White Sox yesterday, slugging the Tigers from behind with a two-out, 3-2 pitch, three-run homer in the ninth.

Martin Clincher

And it was that winter trade with Kansas City that provided the pay-off in Tuesday's 4-3 opening day victory at Chicago with Billy Martin, the big man in the big deal, getting the single that counted the clincher.

Kansas City held a share of first place with Detroit after walloping Cleveland 9-4 as Bob Cerv drove in five runs with two doubles and a homer yesterday. Boston finally won one, defeating the New York Yankees 3-1 on a two-run homer by Jackie Jensen and Dave Sisler's seven-hit pitching in the only other AL game scheduled.

The Los Angeles Dodgers whipped San Francisco 13-1 last night in the only National League game scheduled.

But It Helps

Winning their first two games of the season may not stamp the Tigers as the club to wreck the reign of the Yankees, but it could help. They hadn't won their first two since 1950—and that was the year they finished second, hanging on in the flag chase until the last two days of the season.

Last season, when spring hopes were high (after a closing rush in '56), the Tigers were doomed from the start, winning only two of their first eight.

Saugerties Game Club Dinner Is Slated April 24

The 74th annual banquet of the Saugerties Fish and Game Club will be held Thursday, April 24 at the Flamingo Restaurant, Route 9W, Saugerties.

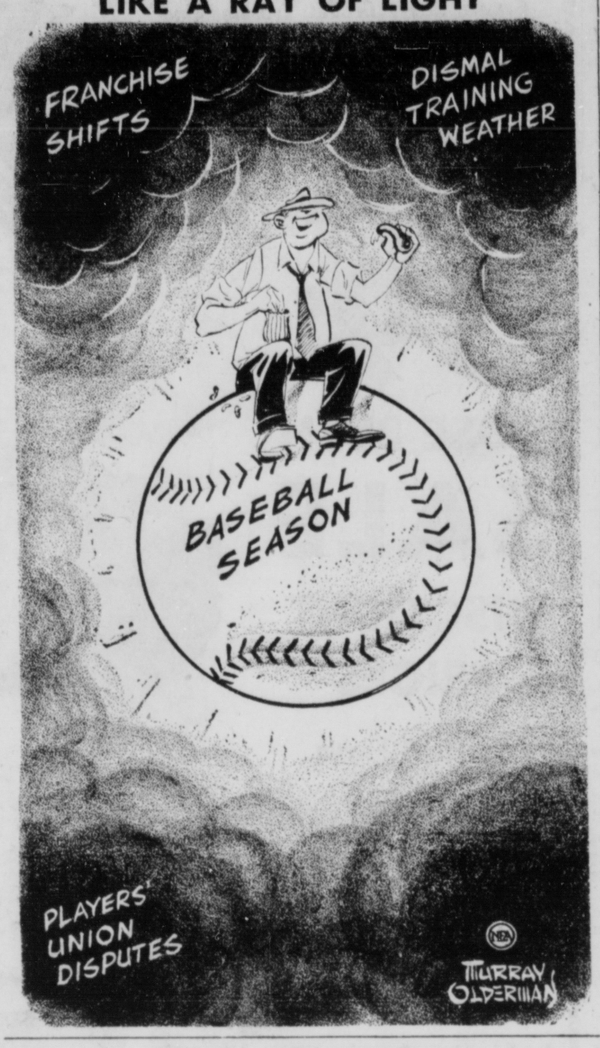

Charles J. Tiano, sports editor of the Kingston Daily Freeman, will be guest speaker.

Deadline for ticket reservations has been set Monday, April 21 by Casper Miller, banquet chairman. Ladies and guests are invited.

Ticket reservations may be made with Miller, Harold Van Voorhis, president, Clyde Miller, Albert Perks, Nelson Van Bramer, William Knipe, Ronald B. Johnstone or Charles Fous.

Jon Cincebox of Binghamton, N. Y., and Bruce Schmelzer of Eggertsville, N. Y., will co-captain the 1958-59 Syracuse University basketball team.

LIKE A RAY OF LIGHT

Glasco Vols Cop Saugerties Dartball League Pennant

The Glasco Vols defeating Service Center B's 2 to 1, became the 1958 Saugerties Dartball League pennant winner Wednesday night at West Camp parish hall in special play-off games to break the first place tie.

The Vols will clash with the winner of the play-offs which begin Monday, at the annual banquet and series games, Monday, May 5 at West Camp parish hall. The winner of the series will receive the Saugerties Dartball League trophy. Glasco Vols and the winner of the play-offs will each receive trophies the night of the banquet.

In the games to break the third place tie, at Glasco Firehouse last night, Quarryville was declared the winner when Katsbaan forfeited three games due to the lack of the required number of players. League rules specify that each team in any play-off game must field nine players.

Monday night's quarter-finals will pit second place Service Center B's with fifth place West Camp at the Service Center court, and fourth place Katsbaan with third place Quarryville at the Quarryville court. The winners will clash Monday, April 28 in the semi-finals at the court of the higher team in the standings.

The Vols won the hard fought games last night 9 to 8; 6 to 7 and 21 to 13. Glasco home runs were credited to Frank Palumbo, Louis Cacchillo 2; Frank Fabiano 2, including a grand slam; Louis Spada, Salvatore Mauro, Michael Cashara, Salvatore Provenzano and Rudolph Mauro.

Service Center home runs were delivered by Virgil Finger, William Mauterstock 2, Richard Hoose 2 and Albert Perks.

Boyd Impressive Racking Rivers

CHICAGO (AP)—"I just told him that he had better win or he would have to start way at the bottom of the ladder and would be fighting in Hoboken or somewhere."

It's Bernie Glickman speaking. He manages middleweight Bobby Boyd.

Boyd took him seriously. The young Chicago middleweight contender unloaded a variety of punches and pounded away steadily for three minutes of every round to defeat Neal Rivers last night.

It was an impressive victory for Boyd, currently unranked by the National Boxing Assn. and only so-so in a draw with Holly Mims in his only other start this year. Boyd, 24, is trying to come back after being clubbed out of contention in 1956 by Joe Giardello.

Rivers, ranked No. 8 by the NBA, had only one good round in the nationally televised bout in Chicago Stadium.

Key Cops Title In Western Golf

DELRAY BEACH, Fla. (AP) — James (Billy) Key, who hasn't played any serious golf in four years, confining his activity to a pleasure round once a week, is the new Western amateur golf champion.

The Columbis, Ga., bank vice president defeated Technician Third Class Mason Rudolph of Fort Chaffee, Ark., yesterday in the 36-hole finals of the tournament at the Country Club of Florida with a remarkable display of precision iron play and deadly putting. The margin was 3 and 2.

Dodgers Thump Giants, 13-1, 3rd Game Today

By JACK STEVENSON

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—San Francisco's Giants and Los Angeles play the deciding game of their first Pacific Coast series today after lefty Johnny Podres squared accounts for the Dodgers.

The pitching hero of the Dodgers' 1955 World Series triumph cut down the Giants and his teammates clubbed five San Francisco hurlers in a 13-1 triumph last night.

Rigney Praises

"I've never seen Podres pitch that well against us," Giants Manager Bill Rigney declared in a clubhouse that was in marked contrast with the happy afternoon two days ago when his team won the opener 8-0.

Podres, who won two World Series games from the New York Yankees in 1955, set a personal strikeout mark, fanning 11 Giants. His previous best was 10 Chicago Cubs in 1953.

Duke's 400-Footer

Duke's traveled more than 400 feet and completely over the right field bleachers. He connected in the third inning on a low change-up pitch from Giants starter Ramon Monzant, who also served up the ball that Gray put into the left field bleachers in the second inning.

"Monzant didn't have his fast ball working at all and we didn't get too much help from the relief hurlers," Rigney declared after Paul Giel, Jim Constable, Ray Crone and Stu Miller all had shots at the Dodgers. Giel was charged with six runs and Crone three as Los Angeles batters collected 15 hits.

Included was a pair of doubles by Dodger captain Pee Wee Reese.

Dodgers Expected To Set Record In 90,000 Opener

By The Associated Press

Major league baseball stages its second "opening" day tomorrow—home affairs for the clubs that started the 1958 season on the road Tuesday—and figures to write in all-time attendance record with 90,000-plus expected at the Coliseum for the home debut of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

That multitude would top all baseball records, whether for a World Series game, doubleheader or single game in either league.

It also gives an indication of what Los Angeles Mayor Norris Poulson had in mind when, while making his pitch to Dodger brass in the spring of 1957 at Vero Beach, Fla., he declared "We think big out there."

By comparison, it took the Dodgers eight home dates to count 90,000 fans last season at cosy Ebbets Field in Brooklyn.

While the Dodgers mine gold in their California opener against the San Francisco Giants, the Philadelphia Phillies will beam their night-game home opener against Milwaukee via TV into New York's National League vacuum.

The biggest crowd ever to see a ball game, up to now, is the 86,288 for the fifth game of the Cleveland-Boston 1948 World Series in Cleveland. The NL record is 60,747, for a Giant-Dodger doubleheader at New York's Polo Grounds, May 31, 1937. The single game high is the 54,922 who watched the Dodgers and Giants at the Polo Grounds April 20, 1941.

Canoe Racing

Canoe racing fans will have their first taste of this exciting sport on May 11, when North Creek is host to the first annual white water derby on the turbulent Hudson River in the Adirondack Mountains.

Meet Excited Bruins in Fifth Stanley Cup Play

MONTREAL (AP) — The worried Montreal Canadiens and the happily excited Boston Bruins meet tonight in the fifth game of the Stanley Cup final, a series that is fast running out on the deadlocked clubs.

The Bruins are a hungry hockey team. The prized cup has been won by Boston teams only three times. The last time was in 1941. The Canadiens have won it nine times and are aiming for a three-straight mark.

The Bruins are jubilant over their 3-1 win in Boston Tuesday, a victory that put them even at two games each with the club that was a red-hot favorite before the best-of-seven series started.

The Canadiens were a subdued bunch of players when they arrived home yesterday. There was more gloom when it became known defenseman Dollard St. Laurent had suffered a fractured left cheek-bone.

St. Laurent was injured when he was checked by or collided with Boston's Leo Labine in the second period of the game. The Montreal player suffered a slight concussion but the fracture was not revealed until x-ray examinations were made in Montreal.

Montreal coach Toe Blake said of the injury:

Boston Coach Milt Schmidt said he thought his team's skating, checking and positional play were the big factors in Tuesday's victory and he is looking for a repeat job tonight.

With baseballs flying through the air and spring bursting out all over, it's difficult to get aroused over a mundane problem like control of the deer herd, strictly a cold weather proposition and one which fires some men to tremendous oratorical outbursts in season.

If you are familiar with the huge controversy over the antlerless deer season bill last fall, you'll appreciate the thin streak irony that dominated the recent monthly meeting of the Federated Sportsmen's Clubs of Ulster County.

Some of the member clubs were among the most militant opponents of the measure and took strong, positive measures to circumvent the letter of the law. Briefly, they were against the antler-less season to the hilt.

But a curious change in attitude seems to be slowly but steadily developing among these erstwhile foes of the deer-of-either-sex season. And Frank Hornbeck, Game chairman of the Federation, explains their position very neatly in a letter to the sports department.

"It seems ironic that men who opposed the antler-less season are beginning to sympathize with the farmers, who are being put to a great expense because of deer damage to their property," says Hornbeck. "Under a Conservation Department permit, the farmer is permitted to shoot deer that cause damage on his property. That practice brings in the sportsman, who before could not agree with the farmer."

• The Man Who Shot 137:

Al Hall, a district game protector, related the case of a Mr. Palmer of Greene County, a celebrated incident that caused widespread comment among hunters. Palmer shot 137 deer under permit, deer which ruined 15 per cent of his orchard, causing an estimated $1,000 damage. He also spent $40 on shells and, of course, it required some time to take and then gut the deer. Hall told Federation members the Conservation Department sent men to the Palmer farm for a week trying to cope with the situation at an additional cost of $1,000 to the state.

"In the past I was opposed to taking doe deer," said Shultis, "but after untold damage to my farm, I can only say that, if the sportsmen don't do something about the deer situation, I will. Every day there are at least 90 deer on my property. My field of clover is gone and there is other damage. It has finally come to the point where I get the deer or the deer get me." Strong words, but Mr. Shultis long since abandoned the romantic approach to the deer problem. Bill Goodman, district game manager for the area, pointed out that 77 permits had been issued in Dutchess County and 50 in Ulster. An extended deer-of-either-sex season was the solution used in western counties, Goodman said. It has cut down the number of permits in that area from 200 to about 50.

"We in Ulster County know that large herds of deer roam in the Wittenberg-Phoenicia and southern Ulster areas," says Hornbeck. "All one has to do is ride these areas at night. These deer have to eat and they are not choosy about whose property they ruin. Mr. Elmendorf of Hurley donated over 500 bushel of apples which were put out by sportsmen in the Phoenicia area, but they will tell you the apples didn't last long."

• Proposes Extended Season:

Getting back to the Palmer incident, Al Hall said that erecting an electric fence to protect the orchard would cost roughly around $1,000. It would be impractical under snow conditions that prevailed this winter, he said.

Hornbeck concluded with a proposal that will revive the ancient chants and arguments. But this is what the man said: "Now it is up to the Conservation Department and the Federation member clubs to work out a solution . . . which will have to be an extended doe season to reduce the size of the herd."

Little Porter Derby Entry

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The probable field for the 84th running of the Kentucky Derby was upped again today when trainer Vic Sovinski announced that the Sunny Blue Farm's Little Porter likely will accompany his more highly regarded stablemate, Lincoln Road, to the post at Churchill Downs May 3.

Lincoln Road, beaten only by a neck by Tim Tam in the Florida derby, and Little Porter arrived yesterday on the scene of the $125,000 added race for 3-year olds. Due in Louisville today were Mrs. Lora Birr's Belleau Chief, who beat Lincoln Road at Gulfstream Park last Saturday, and William S. Miller's Relium S. W., who still has to prove himself.

Havana, Jets Win IL Openers

By The Associated Press

The International Baseball League opened its jubilee season last night in glittering fashion as cooler heads prevailed in Havana, where the Sugar Kings rallied to defeat the Buffalo Bisons 6-5 before a hometown turnout of approximately 10,000.

In other lidlifters, the Columbus Jets scored a-come-from-behind 3-2 win over the defending champion Toronto Maple Leafs, Rochester eked out a 2-1 victory over Miami, and Montreal clubbed Richmond 8-4.

The night's four winners, all second-division finishers a year ago, bore out League President Frank J. Shaughnessy's pre-season prediction that the loop would be more balanced this year.

Havana, sixth a year ago, trailed 5-3 going into the bottom of the ninth when the Sugar Kings rupted for three runs. Veteran catcher Sammy Calderone climaxed the rally with a one-out, two-run double off reliever Karl Drews.

Reliefer Steve Nagy was the loser. Rodolfo Arias last of five Havana hurlers received credit for the victory.

Dick Ricketts provided the pitching and squeezed across the winning marker as Rochester spoiled Miami's home debut. Bob Kuzava preserved Ricketts' victory by coming in to get the final out. Bob Conley went all the way for the Marlins.

Soviet Mat Team Meets Yank Squad

NEW YORK (AP)—Russia's formidable wrestling team closes out a triumphant American tour against another picked squad of Yank grapplers at the New York A. C. tonight.

Winner of all three of the previous meets in Oklahoma, the Russians are a virtual cinch to take a 4-0 record home to Moscow with them Saturday.

The Soviet matmen will be the same eight that won 7-1 in Norman, 5-1 (2 draws) in Stillwater and 5-0 (3 draws) in Tulsa Tuesday night.

The only three Yanks rated at least an even chance against the Soviets are featherweight Terry McCann of Tulsa, flyweight Dick Delgado of Tulsa, and heavyweight Bill Kerslake of Cleveland.

New Trout Law Signed by Ave

ALBANY (AP)—Gov. Harriman signed legislation yesterday establishing new seasons for the taking of trout and rainbow trout in downstate areas.

The measure approved yesterday includes waters within Queens, Rockland, Dutchess, Putnam and Westchester under the existing provisions of law established for the trout season in Nassau and Suffolk counties as the period from the second Saturday in April through Sept. 30.

Bibb Falk, former American League outfielder, has been coaching the University of Texas baseball team since 1940. The Longhorns have won 10 Southwest Conference titles under him.

Fritz Jordan Guest Speaker At Onteora Dinner Saturday

Fritz Jordan, prominent Arlington High School coach, will be the guest speaker at a dinner honoring Onteora Central School's championship basketball team scheduled Saturday at 7 p. m. in the school cafeteria.

Jordan has achieved great success over a period of years, piloting many Arlington teams to championships in basketball and baseball. Other speakers will include Charles J. Tiano, sports editor of The Freeman.

Coach Ed Witko's quintet captured the UCAL championship in basketball and advanced to the semi-finals of the Section 9 tournament.

The team also registered another distinguished "first" when it placed two players on the UCAL All-League team. Artie Gribbins was the unanimous choice of the coaches as the No. 1 player on the all-star squad. Bruce Wiederspiel was the other choice of the coaches.

Kawolics, Karas Lead Torrid Shooting in ABC

SYRACUSE (AP) — Ed Kawolics and Dick Karas of Chicago stole the limelight in another day of torrid shooting at the 55th American Bowling Congress Tournament yesterday when they romped into first place in the Doubles Division with a 1327 series.

Karas, 32, dramatized the duo's climb to the top of the standing board by rolling a 299 in the third game of the set. After eleven perfect pocket pitches, he Brooklyned and left the seven pin intact.

Kawolics was, nevertheless, the scoring star of the performance. The 50-year-old bowling instructor, who finished second in last year's ABC Singles department with 726, supplied a 669 series in the big Doubles thrust.

The 3210 series that has kept the St. Louis Falstaffs atop the Open team standings since April 10 survived some serious threats yesterday.

Covington Soon To Join Braves

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Wes Covington, injured outfielder of the Milwaukee Braves, has shown definite improvement and may be ready for action in about a week, Dr. Bruce Brewer reported yesterday.

Covington injured his knee sliding in an exhibition game at Dallas, Texas, a week ago.

Dr. Brewer said the husky fielder would not be able to make the Braves first road trip, starting Friday, because of another examination scheduled that day. But if he gets an okay then, Covington will be able to work out daily starting Saturday. The club returns home April 25.

MEADVILLE, Pa. (AP) — William R. (Red) Moore, head football coach at Allegheny College the past four seasons, has resigned to become line coach at Cornell University, the college announced today. No successor was named.

Moore, who also was wrestling coach and assistant track and field coach at Allegheny, will begin his new job in August.

Moore played tackle for Penn State University and was a guard for the Pittsburgh Steelers from 1947 through 1949.

Louisville Golf Tourney Is Taxed

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Golfers playing in the $20,000 Kentucky Derby open tournament face one sure hazard: the city's 1¼ per cent occupational tax.

Temple's Rodgers MVP Pick in Trotters Tour

BOSTON (AP) — All-America Guy Rodgers of Temple today was picked as the most valuable All-Star Team member at the end of the exhibition basketball tour with the Harlem Globetrotters.

Poplar Bill Wins Roosevelt Pace

WESTBURY (AP)—Poplar Bill is back among the winners after taking the $3,000 Queens Class A Pace at the Roosevelt Raceway last night in 2:07 1-5.

With William Myer at the reins, the 6-year-old led from the start and finished three-quarters of a length ahead of Billy's Lady. For Poplar Bill, owned by Philip Rossi of Little Ferry, N. J., the victory broke a losing streak that extended back to June 8.

Poplar Bill returned the shortest price of the meeting—$3.40, $2.40 and $2.20. Adois Fancy was third.

WIBC Tourney Opens 35-Day Stand in 'Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The 41st annual Women's International Bowling Congress tournament opens tonight for 35 days of competition for $87,321 in prize money.

There'll be 13,000 women bowlers in the meet. Entries include 2,587 five-member teams with 8,086 individuals participating also in doubles, singles and all-events competition.

Bowlers will roll doubles and singles on a non-handicap basis, but teams are divided into three groups. Those with aggregate averages above 751 (150 averages) make up Division 1, with those from 651 to 750 in Division 2 and those below in Division 3.

San Franciscans are down for all spots on opening night. Southern California and Oregon teams begin tomorrow afternoon.

Outstanding performers include Merle Matthews, Long Beach, Calif., holder of the national all star championship and former champs Marion Ladewig, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Sylvia Wene, Philadelphia, and Anita Cataline, Detroit.

MEETING AT THE PLATE—Rising out of a cloud of dust at home plate are Chicago White Sox hurler Dick Donovan, left, and Detroit catcher Jim Hegan who was upset but nailed Donovan when the pitcher tried to score from second on a single in second inning of game at Comiskey Park. # Marie Gets Final Decree For Divorce

Her attorney obtained a final divorce decree for the actress yesterday in Superior Court. Neither Miss McDonald nor Karl, a millionaire shoe manufacturer, was present.

The action made final an interlocutory decree along with a million-dollar property settlement, granted to Miss McDonald July 25, 1956.

The couple married in 1947, were divorced in 1954 and married again in 1955. They have two adopted children, Denice, 8, and Harrison, 7, and a daughter, Tina Marie, 18 months.

Wright Whips Manuel

ROME (AP) — Ted Wright, of Detroit, outpointed Nigerian Sandy Manuel in a 10-round welterweight bout at Rome's Little Palace of Sport.

From Beans Reardon, the old NL umpire, comes a dissenting note about the LA Coliseum being a patsy for sluggers: "No hitters' paradise as people have been led to believe on account of the background—or lack of it." . . . but a side admission from the Long Beach beer baron: "It's not a good place for baseball." . . .

Why the Cards like Don Blasingame, their present-day throwback to the old Gashouse Gang: "He wears the dirtiest uniform on the club" . . . and not because Gussie Busch skimps on the laundry. . . .

It's ironical that Eddie Mathews, who made his reputation as a distance blaster—no one his age ever hit more home runs, including Ruth—is more distinguished in the Braves' ensemble as their fastest runner . . . and only attracted appreciation for his qualities as a big ballplayer by his fielding feats in the '57 Series. . . .

* * *

Pete Rademacher's right in saying he's been told he can fight Patterson again . . . but only if his backers put up the same quarter of a million as last time . . . and only after Floyd takes on a couple of ranking challengers. . . .

The private line from Cus D'Amato to Lou Viscusi, via me: "If he thinks I'm going to Texas with the fighter, he's out of his mind." . . . so if Roy Harris wants a title bid, it won't be in Houston . . . and promoter Viscusi (who actually owns him) won't be in the picture. . . . D'Amato on his overseas jaunt: "America will never be like England to Patterson and me." . . . since it made Floyd feel for the first time like a champ.

Yankees, aiming to cash in on the New York bonanza of exclusivity, have even taken over the lower right field stands for box seats.

* * *

Looks now like Bobby Richardson might stick with the Yanks after all . . . with the Perfesser elated about his spring work . . . mainly because Bobby, who walked only seven times all last season, got eight free tickets to first in training games alone . . . and tied Mantle for the most stolen bases. . . .

Mickey, by the way, claims he can now blast a golf ball 350 yards . . . and on a straight line . . . which is still some distance off George Bayer's 500-yard feats. . . .

Paul Anderson, the greatest hero in Russia (and some shucks in these parts, too), will demonstrate his barbell heroics on the occasion of the USSR-US world championship team weight-lifting match at Madison Square Garden, May 17 . . . even though ponderous Paul is now a pro . . . seems he won't be paid for this exhibition. . . .

Irish jockey Johnny Ruane needs all the winners he can get . . . his tiny feet are adorned by size 3 shoes . . . have to be custom made.

* * *

Jim Lee Howell yearns for his rice-growing fields around Lonoke, Ark., but must figure on an extended career around New York as boss of the grid Giants . . . since he's just purchased a bigger hacienda across the river in Englewood, N. J. . . . and wife Sue is expecting the third little Howell to coincide with season's opening. . . .

Wilt Chamberlain, who sports colorful caps during his high-jumping jinks for Kansas, is well supplied . . . has 25 different bonnets in his wardrobe. . . .

Between you'n'me, Julius Helfand ain't saying much for political reasons . . . but he's distinctly unhappy over the way DA Frank Hogan's dug into the boxing picture. . . .

Dulles Says Nation Must Share Secrets

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles told Congress today the United States must share atomic weapons secrets with its allies else the Soviet Union will dominate them with nuclear superiority.

In testimony prepared for a Senate-House atomic energy subcommittee, Dulles backed an administration bill to permit this country to share know how, weapons materials and some parts with the friendly nations.

The subcommittee asked him specifically for an official view on how such sharing would affect efforts to bring about international arms limitation.

Dulles replied the legislation is indispensable for that purpose. In the first place, he said, the free nations which do not now have atomic weapons—that is, all but the United States and Great Britain — are understandably not eager to have agreements "perpetuating for all time their present nuclear weapons inferiority."

Laborites Gain 27

LONDON (AP) — Britain's beleaguered Conservative Party has suffered another blow. Returns today from the triennial London County Council elections gave the opposition Laborites a gain of 27 seats.

With returns for six races to be counted later in the day, the Labor Party had won 95 seats to 13 for the Conservatives. The Socialist Laborites have been in control of the council throughout the postwar period, but this is their highest majority yet.

One of the few Conservative winners in the voting yesterday was Chris Chataway, former British Olympic runner and a member of the still fairly exclusive club of sub-four-minute milers. He is now a television commentator.

Bomb Injures Woman

ALGIERS (AP) — A crude bomb blew up today in the entryway of the building housing the American consulate in Algiers. A Moslem cleaning woman opening the door was seriously injured.

The consulate is on the fourth floor of the building.

The bombing was the second involving American diplomatic installations in Algiers. A bomb previously had been exploded in the building housing the U. S. Information Agency but little damage was done.

Ask Water Route Survey

WASHINGTON (AP)—Officials and agencies from New York City, New York State and Vermont urged today that Congress authorize a federal survey of an inland water route between the Port of New York and Montreal.

The inland route is 450 miles. New York to Montreal, via the Atlantic Ocean and the St. Lawrence River, is 1,700 miles.

In a series of prepared statements before the House public works subcommittee on harbors and rivers, support for such a survey was expressed by Gov. Averell Harriman, the Port of New York Authority, Commerce Commissioner Edward T. Dickinson, Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York, the New York-Vermont Interstate Commission on the Lake Champlain Basin and the Vermont Development Commission.

The newsprint used by U. S. newspapers in a single day would reach to the moon — 238,800 miles away.

Civic Group Plan Proposes Project At Halcyon Park

Improvement of grounds and a proposal to beautify the entrance to Halcyon Park, a community situated between Lake Katrine and Ruby on the Ruby Road was approved at a recent meeting of Halcyon Park Civic Association.

The proposal in a report submitted by Kenneth Hazel of the betterment committee was accepted by a vote of the members. A scale model was used to illustrate the committee's initial two-part program to beautify the park's entrance and improve the overall landscaping.

Need Town Approval

Contingent upon the approval of the Town of Ulster Planning and Town Boards, the first portion of the project will be to equalize the height and then paint the entrance's guard rails.

The second and larger phase of the proposed program to start in June will be the construction with approval of town agencies, of a rectangular sign between fieldstone pillars. Carved into this foot high plank will be the words Halcyon Park. Phosphorescent paint is being considered to aid night visibility.

Miss Esther Schisa was appointed chairman of a special fund raising campaign to help defray the costs of the projects. J. Dowski and G. Cook will assist Miss Schisa on the committee.

Action by the executive committee was authorized to contact and petition the Town Board and other interested parties concerning the road situation. A concise report on progress being made will be presented at the next meeting.

Report on Fire

Some Conditions Were Faulty at Museum in N.Y.

NEW YORK (AP)—Fire Commissioner Edward F. Cavanagh Jr. said yesterday that the Museum of Modern Art, which had a fire on Tuesday, illegally created conditions "that could have contributed to a major fire."

Cavanagh said it was fortunate that there were not dozens of fatalities.

An electrician working in the ultra-modern building died in the fire and 30 persons were injured.

Cavanagh said museum officials agreed to correct the conditions he had complained about.

Cavanagh said:

". . . When these conditions are corrected and when satisfactory fire-safety and maintenance procedures are enforced, the museum will be as it was constructed, one on which there are no unusual or unreasonable fire dangers. . . .

"The building itself—except for these unfortunate, but let us say transient but none the less serious, conditions—is a building of excellent construction and has exceptional fire-safety features."

The museum officials said after the meeting with Cavanagh:

"We were unaware of the existence of any violation of fire protection measures . . . we are immediately taking every step necessary, in complete cooperation with the fire and building departments, to meet all their suggestions."

Cavanagh found "illegal construction" consisting of flammable partitions that he said could have carried the fire into "vast areas." He said the partitions were used as dividers in various parts of the museum.

The commissioner said:

"They rebuilt the interior of the museum, practically. There was not a single application for an alteration permit."

Cavanagh also listed a number of other violations.

Indians to Take Kinzua Dam Fight To Highest Court

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Seneca Indian nation will carry its fight against construction of Kinzua Dam to the U. S. Supreme Court if necessary, the Indians' attorney asserts.

Edward O'Neill made the statement yesterday after conferring with a delegation of officials from Cattaraugus County, N. Y., who were here on what they called a "fact-finding visit."

Both the Indians and the Cattaraugus officials oppose the dam on ground it would inundate large areas of southwestern New York State, including part of the Indian reservation.

U. S. District Court in Washington recently dismissed an injunction suit by the Indians to block construction of the 101-million-dollar project on the upper Allegheny River near Warren, Pa.

Harry L. Kilburn, chairman of the New York group, said he had obtained information that proves Pittsburgh would receive little if any benefit from the flood control project.

N-F, County to Get $3 Million From State

ALBANY (AP) — The New York Power Authority will pay the city of Niagara Falls and Niagara County three million dollars over the next five years under a bill signed today by Gov. Harriman.

The measure also authorizes the authority to spend 1½ million in Niagara Falls for local improvements in conjunction with the Niagara power project.

The three-million-dollar payment will be in lieu of taxes. It will be paid in decreasing annual installments.

The bill notes that the destruction in a rockslide of the Schoellkopf power plant at Niagara Falls cost the city $700,000 annually in real estate taxes.

Part of the three-million-dollar payment will be used for school purposes.

Taking heed to the 'Buy Now' national campaign as endorsed by the Government,' Kingston area homemakers are indicating that they heartily approve of the Union-Fern $250,000 Show now going on in the Kingston Armory on North Manor Ave.

"We planned special displays that would attract the public, but the response is even greater than our expectations," an official of the firm stated.
